

The Wesleyan Alumnae

Vol. XXIII

No. 4

THE WESLEYAN ALUMNAE

PUBLISHED QUARTERLY BY THE ALUMNAE ASSOCIATION OF WESLEYAN COLLEGE
MACON, GEORGIA

NOVEMBER, FEBRUARY, MAY, AUGUST

Subscription Price, $1.00 per year

Entered as second-class matter February 12, 1925 at the Post Office at Macon, Georgia under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Volume XXIII

Number 4

A MESSAGE TO ALUMNAE FROM THE CHAIRMAN OF THE ALUMNAE BUILDING COMMITTEE:

You will read in this magazine the details of the campaign to raise two million dollars in endowment for Wesleyan. The Trustees feel it imperative that this Second Century Fund be raised at this time.

No campaign for a college can be successful without the wholehearted support of its Alumnae; therefore this campaign must take precedence and our proposed Alumnae Building is again a thing of the future.

If we all get behind the Endowment Campaign with our support, the time will sooner come when the Alumnae Building project will be revived.

Let us all put our shoulders to the wheel for the Endowment in the same spirit with which we began our plans for an Alumnae Building.

Iola (Wise) Stetson

A MESSAGE FROM WESLEYAN'S PRESIDENT

The Alumnae have again demonstrated their great loyalty to Wesleyan. It has been the dream of every one of us to have on this lovely campus an Alumnae House in keeping with the finest traditions of the college. You have again agreed to delay this matter in order that your full influence and service may be given to the campaign for endowment. This gracious and unselfish attitude overwhelms your president. I wish I knew a word full enough of emotion and meaning to express my feelings.

Wesleyan College is due for an advance of significant proportions. This advance will be both spiritual and material. These two will join hands in the creation of an even greater Wesleyan—in culture, scholarship and piety.

The Chapel-Auditorium, the long time dream of us all, and an imperative for Wesleyan's full spiritual development, will be provided and built by one of Wesleyan's most liberal benefactors.

The cloud that settled down over Wesleyan in the old bonded debt and sale of our properties will be completely dissipated. The college will meet its moral obligation to these friends who lost money through this debt. When this is accomplished, victory will be won.

The financial security will be assured, and all doubt dissolved, by the two million dollars in permanent endowment. Wesleyan can then, and only then, build here a college strong enough to give the deserved opportunities to our eager young women.

The campaign for two million dollars endowment has been carefully thought out. The amount is reasonable. If we are to build a really great college, and this is our purpose, this is the minimum.

I am persuaded that this campaign goal is within our reach. The seven thousand alumnae, as in the past, will now do their best. The trustees, men and women who love Wesleyan and the way of life for which Wesleyan is the synonym, have pledged their best to this campaign. The faculty and students here in the college family are eager to do their full share. The Florida, North Georgia and South Georgia Conferences of The Methodist Church have approved and pledged their support. Yes, the goal is within our reach and may God help us to attain it.

As president of your college I ask for your best in this holy task. I pledge my uttermost in making your own dear Alma Mater serve God and our generation by giving the best to the finest young women of the nation. When this campaign is over every one of us will join with you in providing ways and means to build here on this beautiful campus an Alumnae House in keeping with the best traditions of the institution.

Silas Johnson

WESLEYAN LOOKS AHEAD

A Preliminary Statement by the Committee on Endowments by the Board of Trustees

Wesleyan College has always looked ahead. It was founded because a group of Georgia citizens looked into the future and were convinced that American women ought to have the same educational opportunities as men. In 1836, because Georgia legislators caught the vision, it received the first charter ever granted to a college for women.

Thus Wesleyan became the first college in the world authorized by law to give a degree to a woman. This is a priceless asset. A simple statement of the fact should challenge anyone who believes that women should have all the educational advantages that men have, to assist in implementing this historic institution of the South with the funds necessary to assure a future even greater than its honored past.

After ninety years of steadfast devotion to its purpose of providing Christian education for women, Wesleyan took a bold step with eyes still focused on the years to come. The new educational plant which it built in 1928 on a magnificent campus at Rivoli, an attractive suburb of Macon, just outside the corporate limits of the City, is one of the most consistently beautiful possessed by any college of its size anywhere.

The removal of the Liberal Arts College to Rivoli released the historic buildings on the hill in Macon for the exclusive use of the Wesleyan Conservatory of Music and School of Fine Arts. This coordinate part of Wesleyan College has developed in seven years a forward looking integrated program which an experienced educator from the North declares "is duplicated neither in the South nor, as far as we know, in any other section of the country."

Now those responsible for Wesleyan—the Trustees, the administration, and the North Georgia, South Georgia, and Florida Conferences of the Methodist Church—look ahead once more. They realize that fine buildings, invaluable as they are, do not make a fine college. Teaching is the core of the educational process. Only teaching of high quality will make a college of high quality. Only such teaching could have made Wesleyan what it is.

In these post-war days everything costs more. The competition for teachers of ability and personality, from universities and colleges which have large endowments or are supported from tax funds, becomes continually more intense. Such institutions can afford to pay higher salaries than Wesleyan and naturally do.

In order to keep able teachers on its faculty in the face of this competition, and to secure others of like ability when occasion arises, Wesleyan must be able to pay higher salaries to its teachers.

It must be able to add members to its faculty so that advanced courses may be offered which will tend to keep students who now leave for other institutions because they cannot get at Wesleyan what they want.

It should be provided with independent funds to finance the teachers retirement plan, which under present conditions is financed from operating income.

Wesleyan is to have in the near future, when building conditions are more stabilized, a magnificent Chapel-Auditorium on the Rivoli campus. The cost of its erection has been provided by one of the College's staunchest and most generous friends. Its building will inspire the revivifying of the religious life of the College, of which the Chapel will be both the symbol and the major instrument. Wesleyan requires, therefore, additional income for the intensification of its religious program.

In order to extend its educational opportunities among young women of exceptional ability, the College should have additional income for scholarships for high ranking students.

It must have additional income to meet the rising cost of everything essential in college operation.

The increased income required to meet these essential needs can only be provided from endowment.

There is another purpose for which Wesleyan needs money, which is based not on practical but on ethical considerations.

In 1942 Wesleyan consummated the purchase of the bonds of an issue of $1,000,000 made to complete the construction and equipment of the Rivoli plant. This resulted in the deeding of the College properties back to the Board of Trustees. The purchase was made possible by the acceptance by the bondholders, with a very few exceptions, of less than the issue price of the bonds. The Trustees and the administration, however, cannot escape the conviction that the College has a moral obligation to former bondholders. The three Conferences of the Methodist Church heartily approve of this conviction.

The Trustees intend, when money is available, to discharge this moral obligation as they have already discharged the legal obligation.

Wesleyan, accordingly, with the approval of the Conferences, is undertaking to raise in the near future an aggregate of

A Statement From Your Alumnae Leaders

The Board of Trustees of the College permit us, the officers and board of managers of your National Alumnae Association, to present to the Alumnae the Preliminary Statement concerning the Wesleyan Second Century Fund which appears above.

We urge every Alumna to read this statement with care, to give it thoughtful consideration, and to prepare herself to participate vigorously in the Second Century Fund undertaking when the appointed time arrives.

Success in this forward looking endeavor on behalf of our College will depend in great measure on Alumnae leadership, Alumnae cooperation, and Alumnae giving.

We believe that we can confidently promise the Trustees that the Alumnae of Wesleyan will rise to this opportu-ity and this responsibility to equip our Alma Mater for continued growth in quality and service in her Second Century.

Mary (Nicholson) Ainsworth
Annie (Gantt) Anderson
Sue (Tanner) McKenzie
Virginia Anderson
Mary (Robeson) Boardman
Mary-Dudley (Fort) Colley
Kosaline (Jenkins) Gilmore
Annie (Bates) Haden
Alleen (Poer) Hinton
Roberta (Jones) James
Dorothy (Blount) Lamar
Virginia (Townsend) Munford
Iola (Wise) Stetson
Eunice Thomson
Jennie (Loyall) Anderson

$2,000,000 for these five purposes:

- (1) Discharge of the moral obligation to the former bondholders;
- (2) Maintenance of teaching on a high level and continual raising of the level;
- (3) Enrichment of the religious program of the College of which the new Chapel-Auditorium will be the center;
- (4) Expansion of scholarship aid to students of outstanding ability;

- (5) To provide additional income to meet the constantly increasing costs of substantially every item that enters into the overall cost of operating a college under present conditions.

The Board of Trustees appeals to all those who believe in the vital importance of education, of education for women, and above all of Christian education for their cooperation and support in this forward looking undertaking.

Who Are the Benefactors of Wesleyan?

Alleen (Poer) Hinton, A.B. 1912, Trustee of Wesleyan and Chairman of the Trustee Committee on Buildings, gave the following address on October 15, 1947, in honor of "Benefactors' Day." In his introduction of her, Dr. Silas Johnson paid high tribute to her devoted and efficient service in supervising the remodeling and furnishing of the buildings, especially at the Conservatory.

In regard to "Benefactors' Day" you who are students at Wesleyan today have been cheated. In my college days we had a half holiday on the occasion, and some years before that there used to be a whole holiday, with poems read and ice cream served on the campus. The "powers that be" have chiseled on you! But I am afraid that always there have been speeches, so in that particular you are no worse off than your predecessors at Wesleyan.

"Benefactors' Day" was once held on May 12, and was known as "Seney's Birthday" in honor of the man who gave to Wesleyan in 1881 the first large gift of money in her history. This man was Mr. George I. Seney of Brooklyn, New York, and it is a matter of unusual interest that this first financial gift of real importance ($125,000) came to Wesleyan from a northern capitalist only a few years after the close of hostilities between his section of the country and ours. We sometimes think that liberalism was born with our generation yet Mr. Seney's interest in education in the south was enlisted when he read a printed speech by Bishop Atticus G. Haygood, then president of Emory, called "Our Brother in Black," and expressing a liberal and understanding attitude toward the recently freed slaves. Mr. Seney gave $125,000 to Emory, and asked Bishop Haygood to suggest to him a woman's college in the south for a similar gift.

In our desire to be all inclusive in our recognition of Benefactors, we sometimes pass lightly by those who have given money. I want to be emphatic today in my tribute to them. Neither these beautiful buildings or this beautiful campus nor the old historic ones in town could ever have been ours except by the generous contributions of men who have been willing to give of their wealth to make this institution possible.

In 1943 the date October 15 was chosen by the trustees as "Benefactors' Day" because on this date in 1836 the cornerstone was laid for the first building of the college which is now Wesleyan, the "Alma Mater of the womanhood of Georgia in particular and of the world in general."

At a meeting on the 19th of September, 1836 the minutes record this significant item. "Ordered—That the cornerstone of the college be laid on the 15th of October and that the secretary give notice to that effect and that the Rev. Elijah Sinclair be requested to deliver the address on that occasion.

E. Hamilton, Chm."

Accordingly the Macon Georgia Telegraph for October 13th carried the notice as required and adds "that the citizens of Macon and the vicinity are invited to be present and witness the ceremony." The notice is signed.

James A. Nesbit, S. B. T.

Who are the benefactors of the college? There are many. They are, definitely, all of those who have done well in their relationship to the college.

They are the students and the alumnae who reflect credit on the institution.

They are the faculty of the past and the present, whose high ideals of scholarship and leadership have meant much in the lives of their students. Tablets have been erected to some of these. I hope you read the inscriptions on these tablets. They are not careless words. They are the considered judgment of those who knew. I am often moved by one in the chapel to the memory of William Capers Bass. It states:

"He served the college faithfully for 35 years, being its president 20 years, and loving it as his life unto the end."

They are trustees of the college. A tablet to one of these is on the Rivot campus today: "William Rokenbaugh Rogers, Jr.: Devotion to Wesleyan was his master passion, a deathless devotion that will make deathless his memory among the friends of Wesleyan."

By no means all of the benefactors of Wesleyan are inscribed in marble or bronze. Many persons have loved Wesleyan during its more than a century of existence. There must be something unusual and very fine about a college that has inspired such devotion.

Many have really invested their lives. It is imperative that as an institution we should keep them always in mind. It is fitting that we should pause in our year's activities to be reminded of these.

Today we hold them in our hearts with gratitude, remembering the admonition of Goethe:

"What our fathers have bequeathed to us we must earn to possess."

It is my conviction that the wealth of devotion that has been poured into Wesleyan comes from the lofty ideals and purposes of its founders. We sing: "A star in the dark is thy glorious past," and these words are true.

The college was born in great travail. A "Female College" did not spring full grown in 1836. It required men of vision and action, "zealous and enterprising friends of female literature," our historians call them. For fifteen years or more formative forces were operating on the minds of the people of Georgia.

In 1825 Duncan Campbell introduced in the Georgia Legislature "an act to establish a seat of learning in this state for the education of females." It was defeated.

However it was a remarkable document. It not only called for equal educational opportunity for women, but it named the trustees of the proposed institution—thirty in number—and half of them were women. Mr. Campbell died three years later and there were many eulogies of him, all praising his courageous stand.

In 1835 Daniel Chandler (incidentally the son-in-law of Campbell) made a speech at the commencement of the University of Georgia in which he said, "There are in these United States today 61 colleges, and be it said to the disgrace of the nation, not one is dedicated to the cause of female education!"

These commencement occasions were great social events in Georgia. Many people attended from many parts of the state, so his speech was heard by the "best people." Also 5,000 copies were printed for distribution.

In 1836 another bill was introduced in the legislature for the charter of a college for women, and young Alexander Stephens, then on the threshold of his brilliant career, rose to his feet and made an impromptu speech which moved his colleagues to grant the charter on December 23, 1836 for the pioneer college for women.

Magazines of the day recognized the need for a new type of educational institution for women. One stated, "Who does not know that the popular mode of female education has been more tinsel than gold?"

An open letter in the Georgia Telegraph in July, 1835, begins: "It is notorious, Messrs. Editors, that the reputation of many of our most extensively patronized institutions form their claims for public favor on what are justly termed 'the ornaments of young ladies'."

The tide was turning, however. The city of Macon, just thirteen years old, with a population of only 2,623, boasted of a new "Bibb Academy," a building of "two stories with porticos and a cupola." It had separate departments for male and female pupils, but Macon wanted something more for its daughters. At a meeting of citizens of Macon in 1834 to decide on plans and purposes, Elijah Sinclair, a resident Methodist minister, suggested that they build a college for women.

Concurrently the Methodist Church was interested in founding a real college for girls. Twice in 1831 and 1835 the conference, just separated from the South Carolina jurisdiction, met in Macon. The discussion on this momentous subject awakened a profound interest in Macon. The resident Methodist minister, Elijah Sinclair, John Howard and John Talley were appointed by the citizens to ask the conference to sponsor the enterprise. This sponsorship was accepted in 1836.

These three men selected for the site of the college "Encampment Hill," a "commanding eminence midway between the city of Macon and the village of Vineville." Here they knelt in prayer about a tree stump and dedicated the site to God for the education of women.

Wesleyan has in its possession today the minutes of trustee meetings of these early years, even before the college was opened and we owe them a great debt.

These trustees were earnest men. They were ministers, lawyers, doctors, planters. Our minutes show that they met some times at seven o'clock in the morning, at three in the afternoon and again at night. Their experience in setting up the foundation of a college for women was without precedent. They elected a president and one professor, George Foster Pierce and Professor Darby, and then, realizing that they had secured the services of two of the ablest men of their time, they turned over to them the selection of a faculty and the planning of a course of study.

The opening of the Georgia Female College was, according to a newspaper account of the day, "an occasion of great interest and of deep and thrilling experience." Within a few years a financial crisis arose and the first benefactors of Wesleyan were raised up. The men who had set their shoulders to the wheel never lost their purpose.

Wesleyan, in the words of the late Bishop Warren A. Candler, "always has been and always will be devoted in its teachings and spirit to the distinctively Christian culture."

And in the words of its first president and the orator of its projection:

"Let others seek the accomplishment of classic love, wander amidst the ruins of antiquity, learn the lessons of wisdom from the gray chronicles of departed times and sit wrapt in poetic mood as the evening looks down upon the lone and mighty world over whose bosom, wide and waste, be scattered the mouldering cities that have crumbled into tombs.

"Be it ours to lead our children amid the gardens of God. On this institution rest forever the dewes of Zion and the smile of God."

Alumnae Secretary Weds Wesleyan Trustee

Jennie Loyall

(From The Macon Telegraph,
September 11, 1947)

Mrs. Charles Jefferson Woods announces the marriage of her sister, Miss Jennie Loyall, to Mr. William Dickson Anderson on Wednesday evening, September the tenth at the Vineville Methodist Church at seven o'clock in the presence of the immediate families, the Rev. Albert S. Trulock, pastor, officiating.

Miss Loyall has been alumnae secretary of Wesleyan College since the organization of its alumnae office, and has been vice-president and trustee of the American Alumni Council. She was the first secretary of the Georgia Division of the American Association of University Women. She received the A.B. degree from Wesleyan and the A.M. from George Washington University, and has spent her summers abroad many years. She is the daughter of the late Effie McRae Loyall of McRae and of Thomas Dabney Loyall of Virginia, and a niece and ward of the late George R. Loyall, former president of the Norfolk-Southern Railway.

William D. Anderson

Mr. Anderson is chairman of the Board and president of the Bibb Manufacturing Company, one of the nation's largest textile corporations. He has served as president of the American Cotton Manufacturers Association, as director of the Cotton Textile Institute, and is a life director of the Georgia Cotton Manufacturers' Association. Mr. Anderson is an alumnus of the University of Georgia, and served as trustee of his Alma Mater and chairman of its finance committee. He was chairman of the Board of Regents of the University of Georgia system when that Board was first organized. He is now chairman of the Board of Trustees of Wesleyan College, director of the Central of Georgia Railway, and of the Citizens and Southern Bank.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson left immediately for New York, and upon their return will be at home at 945 Vineville Avenue.

Wesleyan Alumnae

By Eunice Thomson, Alumnae Editor

Although Wesleyan holds the distinction of having had the first Alumnae Association in the world (organized in 1859), she did not have an Alumnae Office until 1924, and has never had but one full-time Alumnae Secretary, Jennie Loyall, A.B. 1912, now Mrs. William D. Anderson.

Jennie Loyall came to the college in June, 1924, during the administration of Dr. William F. Quillian as president, to organize the work of the Alumnae Association. At the time she had returned to Macon to be with her invalid mother, and she took the position of Alumnae Secretary instead of a teaching position which Dr. Quillian offered to her, because it would be, they both thought, "light, part-time work."

It was never a part-time job; that she realized from the first day. It took her full time and attention for all of the day, and kept her working far into the night, when she learned typing and wrote or edited the copy for the first issue of The Wesleyan Alumnae, which appeared in January, 1925. Fortunately, she was able to give much of her time and thought to the new work at Wesleyan, and under her supervision was laid its foundation. In April, 1924, she attended a conference of the American Alumni Council, an organization composed of alumni and alumnae secretaries of the leading colleges and universities, in Charlottesville, Virginia. According to the principles laid down by the Council, and with the advice of the best leaders in alumni work in other colleges, she organized the work at Wesleyan on a sound basis.

During the summer of 1925 a second full-time worker was added to the Alumnae Office staff, Frances Peabody, A.B. 1925, Assistant Alumnae Secretary. In February, 1926, Eunice Thomson, A.B.

1925, returned to the college to replace Frances, who in April of that year became Mrs. Clifford McKay. From that time until the fall of this year, with the help of student assistants and of some full-time clerical work from time to time, these two have carried on the work of the Alumnae Office. Together they watched the organization grow, until today there are 7,000 names on the active list of alumnae. They saw the Alumnae Office moved from the Main Building on College Street to Tate Hall on the new Rivoli campus. They suffered with the college through the terrible days of the depression. They, and the loyal alumnae, worked frantically through the campaign of 1939 to save the college properties, and had the joy of seeing these efforts crowned with success.

Tribute From a Fellow-Worker

Nobody knows better than I do what Jennie Loyall has meant to Wesleyan through the years of her association with the college.

She was outstanding as a student; an honor graduate from the Macon high school, on the staff of The Wesleyan, the president of the senior class and president of the student body.

She taught in Warthen College in Georgia and in Mansfield College, Louisiana; after her graduation, did graduate work at Columbia, and received the M.A. degree from George Washington University. She returned to her Alma Mater well prepared in educational background for her new work, but with many misgivings because of the years of absence from Wesleyan and from Georgia. She need not have feared for the success of the venture; she has a natural gift for organization, and for seeing, through a maze of material the important thing; she has the rare ability to inspire in others the desire to work for an ideal and to work in harmony with one another.

She has from the very first year of her alumnae work kept in touch with the work in other colleges, and has selected for our work the best ideas and methods. In ways and means of carrying on the work of the Alumnae Office, Wesleyan has changed and developed with the rest; in aims and policies we have remained fundamentally the same, for the foundation of the work at Wesleyan was sound.

The secret of Jennie Loyall's success as an Alumnae Secretary lies, I am very sure, in her deep and abiding love for the college. It has been, through the years I have known her, the motivating force of her life, and the center of all her interests. She has believed in Wesleyan's important place as an educational institution and as a Christian influence in the world. She has been entirely undaunted by any threats to its future. She has given herself completely to its welfare, and her interpretation of what is the work of the Alumnae Office is that it includes everything that even remotely concerns the good of the college.

Under her guidance the Alumnae magazine was begun in 1925 and has appeared four times a year ever since, going to all alumnae free of cost. Through her efforts alumnae classes and Wesleyan clubs were organized. She introduced the "Alumnae Loyalty Fund" in 1928, a plan of annual giving to the college which is now being used by nearly all colleges. "Dormitory Day"; and many other projects which later became traditional on the campus originated with her as the need arose. It was she who saw in the stately oratory of Daniel Chandler's historic speech for Woman's Education the beautiful pageant for Wesleyan's Centennial celebration which she adapted from that address.

Her interest in the college will continue unchanged throughout her life, I am very sure, and Wesleyan may be able to count on her loyalty and support always.

ALUMNAE COUNCIL TO MEET

The Wesleyan Alumnae Council will meet at Rivoli December 6 at 11:00 A.M. Officers, club presidents, class secretaries, and all alumnae who can be present for that occasion are invited.

Changes in Faculty and Staff

The number of changes in faculty and staff at Wesleyan is the smallest in some years, and there is on both campuses a fine spirit of unity and cooperation.

The new faculty members include:

Lucile Blanch, Ringling School of Art and holder of Guggenheim Fellowship, Assistant Professor of Art.

Caroline Elizabeth Cook, B.F.A. Carnegie Institute of Technology, Assistant Professor of Speech.

Esther Coudret, Graduate of Vogue School of Fashion Art, Assistant Professor of Costume Design and Fashion Illustration.

Isaac Leroy Domingos, Jr., B.M., Wesleyan Conservatory of Music, Assistant Professor of Theoretical Music, returned after year's leave of absence.

Betty Lewis Donnally, B.S.Ed., Florida State College for Women, Instructor in Physical Education.

Jean Fisher, B.M., Syracuse University, Assistant Professor of Piano.

Jane Hogan, B.S., University of Georgia, Instructor in Chemistry.

Emmett Sidney Johnson, A.B., Southern Methodist University; B.D., Emory University, Professor of Religion and Director of Religious Life.

Mary Morgan Johnson, A.B., Southern Methodist University; B.D., Emory University, Assistant Professor of Sociology.

Elizabeth Louise Sawyer, A.B., University of Maine; M.A., University of Michigan; Ph.D., University of Missouri, Professor of Biology.

Eloise Rodgers Waterhouse, B.S. in H.E., Georgia State College for Women; Internship in Dietetics at Vanderbilt University Hospital; Certificate of Membership in American Dietetics Association, Instructor in Home Economics.

The following have resigned:

Raymond Boyd Nell, Associate Professor of Psychology and Education, resigned September, 1946, to become effective June, 1947.

Ada Elizabeth Armstrong, Associate Professor of Home Economics, resigned January, 1947, to accept another position.

Jean Emily Murray, Assistant Professor of English, resigned January, 1947, to be married.

Margaret Wallace, Assistant Professor of Chemistry, resigned June, 1947, to return to work of the Board of Missions in India.

Melvin John Williams, Professor of Sociology and Economics, resigned June, 1947, to accept another position.

Albert McCombs Winchester, Professor of Biology, resigned June, 1947, to accept another position.

Barbara Brasington, Instructor in Piano, resigned June, 1947, to be married.

Fran Martin Burns, Instructor in Art, resigned June, 1947, to assume duties at home.

Mary Attaway Lee, Instructor in Speech, resigned June, 1947.

Frances Hicks, Assistant Professor Costume Design and Illustration, resigned January, 1947, for further preparation.

Leave of Absence: Milda Cizauskas, Instructor in Physical Education, has been granted a year's leave of absence for graduate study.

Changes in the staff were:

Emmett Johnson

Betty Burke, secretary to the Registrar, left to accept a position in New York. She was succeeded by Elizabeth Barnhill, graduate of Mercer.

Annette Walker, secretary to the president, resigned to accept a position in Macon.

Frances Strohecker returned to Wesleyan as secretary to the president in December.

Mrs. A. J. Crawford of Macon is, secretary to the Dean.

Betty Thompson, A.B. Wesleyan 1947, is new director of public relations.

Mrs. B. A. Pafford came to Wesleyan in the summer to be in charge of the new U. S. Post Office branch opened on the Rivoli campus. She is the mother of Helen (Pafford) Bukowick.

Mrs. Virginia R. Mitchell is in charge of the infirmary at the Conservatory.

Carnegie Grants

Wesleyan is participating in the grants from the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching. Seven members of the Wesleyan faculty received grants from the Foundation this summer for study in their special fields. They are:

Mr. Carl Benneft of the English faculty, who has been studying the literary development of Booth Tarkington,

Mr. Gerhard Bosch, in ceramics, who has been studying leadless glazes and clays and kaolin of Bibb County, Georgia,

Mr. Emil Holzhauer, of the art department, who has been on a painting trip to Mexico,

Miss Thelma Howell, of the biology department, who has been making a specialized study of amphibians,

Mrs. Doris Onderdonk Jelks, of the

Esther Coudret

Elizabeth Sawyer

music faculty, who has been studying A printed report of the work of each piano and pipe organ at the Yale University Summer School of Music at Norfolk, Connecticut, nae under separate cover. You will find these reports most interesting, and they will give you an idea of how Wesleyan is strengthening her teaching facilities. Not only by adding new and able teachers as vacancies arise, but in helping the good professors who have served the college well, Wesleyan is offering new opportunities to her students.

Mr. Ralph Lawton, also of the music faculty, who has been at work on a treatise dealing with modern piano technique, and Miss Laura Voelkel, of the Latin department, who has been continuing her research on old Roman coins.

New Students At Wesleyan

Wesleyan opened in 1947 with exercises on the Rivoli campus. The large student bodies of both campuses represent 23 states, the District of Columbia, France, Italy, China, and Puerto Rico.

Macon, with 67 students at Wesleyan, and Atlanta with 64 lead in numbers. There is the largest number of Chinese girls ever to attend in any one year, ten girls. Twenty-two veterans of World War II are students at the Conservatory.

Four of the new girls represent the fourth generation of their families at Wesleyan. Among the freshmen are the great-great-granddaughter of Professor Phillip Guttenberger, beloved blind professor of music for many years, the granddaughter of Dean Leon Perdue Smith, for many years dean of Wesleyan and at one time vice-president, the great-great-granddaughter of Dr. Edward H. Myers, past president of the college, the great-great-granddaughter of Wesleyan's first president, George Foster Pierce. (Claude Burns, Elinor Smith, Anne McKay, Jean Pierce.)

The new girls are asked each year to give the names of their alumnae relatives, and below are these names. The cousins are too numerous to mention!

Student

	Great-Granddaughter of
Claude Burns	*Francesca (Guttenberger) Link, 1850
Betty Dykes	*Elizabeth Jane (McCall) Davis, 1845
Allee Gardiner	*Lucia (Griswold) Hardeman, 1862
Susan McCall (Conservatory)	*Mary (Howard) Kellum, 1847
Anne McKay (Conservatory)	*Fannie (Myers) Hitch, 1868
Frances Mahone (Sophomore)	*Ellen (Griswold) Smith, 1879
Ann Purvis	*Alma (Tharpe) Baldwin, 1879

Student

	Granddaughter of
Anne Allen	Annie (Hyer) Coleman, 1886
Claude Burns	Rosa (Link) Forester, 1894
Betty Dykes	Minnie (Davis) Scott, 1874
Allee Gardiner	*Roberta (Hardeman) Jones, 1886
Martha Lang	Allee (Horton) Jones, Voice, 1910 (Step-grandmother)
Anne McKay (Conservatory)	Helen (Powell) Lang, 1897
Lois Mathis	Annie (Anderson) McKay, 1887
Joanna Mauldin	Mary (Hitch) Peabody, 1895
Jean Pierce	*Jessie (Lane) Mathis, 1878
Virginia Pease	Addie (Smith) Munro, 1890
Diana Roberts (Conservatory)	Sarah Frances (Alfriend) Pierce, 1892
Betty Smith	Jessie (Morgan) Parks, Music, 1914
Elinor Smith	*Eva (Clisby) Roberts, 1891
Meg Smith	Annie (Hyer) Coleman, 1886
	Nora (Wood) Ware, 1895
	Mamie (Gunter) Marshall, Special, 1928

Student

	Daughter of
Jo Anne Arnold	Evelyn (Sodders) Arnold, 1928
Marilil Bell	*Ruth (Oliver) Bell, 1924
Claude Burns	Loulie (Forester) Burns, 1925
Helen Clanton	Mildred (Vinson) Clanton, 1925
Betty Dykes	Mildred (Scott) Dykes, 1923
Betty Rose Fambro (Conservatory)	Jeffie (Fincher) Fambro, 1925
Sue Futral	Marie (Weldon) Futral, 1929
Allee Gardiner	Roberta (Jones) Gardiner, 1928
Lillian Frances Girardeau	Lillian (Cox) Girardeau, 1917
Eleanor Hart	Emmie (Powers) Hart, 1921
Martha Lang	Le Vert (Franks) Lang, 1928
Anne McKay (Conservatory)	Frances (Peabody) McKay, 1925
Mary Anne McKenney	Mary Frances (Boatright) McKenney, 1918
Joanna Mauldin	Maurine (Munro) Mauldin, 1924
Lois Mathis	Lois (McMath) Mathis, 1920
Kathleen Pape (Conservatory)	Kathleen (Rogers) Pape, 1918

(Continued on Next Page)

Phi Delta Phi Elects Four

The Phi Delta Phi Honor Society for scholarship elected four new members in the fall, Peggy Beeson of Newton, Kansas; Elizabeth Harman of Greenville, Georgia; Leonore Dippy of Orlando, Florida, and Beverly Reichert of Miami, Florida.

The new members were inducted into the Society on October 23 following dinner in the college dining room when they were guests of Dr. and Mrs. Silas Johnson at the president's table.

On October 24, Dr. Leroy E. Loemker, dean of the graduate school of Emory University, spoke at a special chapel program honoring the four new members of Phi Delta Phi. Dr. Loemker is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, a graduate of the University of Dubuque and received his S.T.B. and Ph.D. degrees from Boston University. He was introduced by Dorothea Jarratt, president of Phi Delta Phi.

Phi Delta Phi is giving this year two $100 scholarships to outstanding Wesleyan students, Ruby Layson of Harlan, Ky., and Emily Hancock of Thomaston, Ga.

Benefactors' Day

Benefactors' Day, held annually at Wesleyan in honor of those who have meant much to the college through the years, was observed on October 15, with special programs on both campuses.

Alleen (Poer) Hinton, A.B. 1912, spoke on the Rivoli campus. Her address is given in this issue of the alumnae magazine.

Jennie (Loyall) Anderson, A.B. 1912, spoke to the students on the conservatory chapel.

For many years Benefactors' Day was known as "Seney Day," and was held on May 12, the birthday of George I. Seney.

Students Have Charge of WMAZ

The radio department at Wesleyan, under the direction of Mrs. Anne Frierison Griffin, had charge of the Macon station WMAZ for an entire day, October 30. From 5:00 a.m. until midnight, Wesleyan girls were in charge, presenting the various local shows and commercials throughout the day.

Following the day's broadcast the students were guests of the regular WMAZ staff at a banquet.

Emily Perry	Mildred (Shy) Perry, 1913
Joyce Roberts	Sara (Hudson) Roberts, 1921
Binky Russell	Harriet (Flanders) Simmons, 1924
Anna Louise Schwalbe	Lillie (Schroder) Schwalbe, 1917
Caronelle Smith	Marie (Patton) Smith, 1925
Elinor Smith	*Dorothy (Ware) Smith, 1920
Student	Niece of
Harriet Adams	Jennie (Riley) Crump, 1906
	Julia (Riley) Struby, 1910
Anne Allen	Agnes Coleman, 1913
Helen Elizabeth Austin	Helen (Carpenter) Buchanan, 1911
Barbara Baum	Christine (Baum) Adams, 1927
Claude Burns	*Emma (Guttenberger) Nottingham, 1869 (Great-aunt)
	*Louisa (Guttenberger) Hunt, 1869 (Great-aunt)
	*Julia (Guttenberger) Davis, (Great-aunt)
	Loulie (Link) Cason, 1892

(Continued on Next Page)

Daughters, Granddaughters and Great-Granddaughters of Alumnae

Front row, left to right, Ann Purvis, Jean Pierce, Claude Burns, Frances Mahone.

Second row: Elinor Smith, Mary Ann McKenney, Allee Gardiner, Anne McKay.

Third row: Betty Dykes, Betty Smith, Anne Allen, Eleanor Hart, Joanna Mauldin.

Fourth row: Kathleen Pape, Emily Perry, Sue Futral, Virginia Pease, Blinky Russell.

Fifth row: Anna Louise Schwalbe, Frances Girardeau.

Sixth row: Jo Anne Arnold, Diana Roberts, Betty Rose Fambro.

Standing, back: Susan McCall.

(Absent when the picture was made: Lois McMath, Meg Smith, Marilil Bell, Helen Clanton, Joyce Roberts, Carinelle Smith.)

Wesleyan Artists Enter Seven Paintings in Show

Wesleyan Conservatory and School of Fine Arts was represented by seven paintings in the second annual Southeastern Exhibit of Oils and Water Colors at the High Museum of Art October 5-19.

Mr. Gerhard Bosch, associate professor of ceramics and pottery, had two oils, "Mexican Market" and "The Shack," selected by the judges to hang with the more than 150 paintings entered by artists from eight Southeastern states.

Mr. Emil Holzhauer, professor of painting and drawing, had a water color, "There's Silver in Them Thar Hills," and an oil, "Everett" in the exhibition.

Eleanor Hawk and Priscilla Lobeck, both Wesleyan graduates, were represented in the Atlanta display. Eleanor received the B.F.A. in June, and Priscilla, a 1944 graduate, is a member of the art faculty at Agnes Scott College.

Mrs. Mary Jayne Tidwell, Arcadia, Fla., is the member of the senior class whose still life, also an oil, was chosen. Two noted American artists, Frederic Taubes and Alexander Brook, made the selections.

Speech Department Gives Play

"Our Hearts Were Young and Gay," with Bella Jarrett of Adairsville, Ga., and Virginia Rowland of Wrightsville, Ga., in the double-cast leading role as Cornelia Otis Skinner opened the Wesleyan dramatic season on October 24, and played for two evenings to enthusiastic audiences. Miss Ruth Jean Simonson, head of the department, and Mr. Maynard Samsen, technical director, were in charge of the performances.

The Speech Department is sending out a request for help for their costume room. The department has just this fall acquired adequate storage space for costumes and properties, and can use dresses, men's suits, hats, and other articles of clothing of any period. Any Wesleyan alumna who can raid her attic or cedar chest and send such articles will be doing a real favor to the girls studying speech. The department will also welcome furniture or stage props for use in their various plays. Please send these to:

Miss Ruth Jean Simonson,
Head of the Speech Department,
Wesleyan Conservatory,
Macon, Georgia.

Judge Persons Retires From Bench

Judge Ogden Persons of Forsyth, Wesleyan trustee, resigned in July as judge of the Flint Circuit of the Superior Court of Georgia after 24 years in this capacity.

An editorial in the Macon Telegraph speaks of Judge Persons as "a ripe student of national and international affairs." He was first elected to the House in 1907 where he remained for three years. In 1915 he went to the State Senate, and served in the regular session of that year and in the extra sessions of 1915 and 1917. During the latter period he was president of the upper chamber. He was judge of the city court of Forsyth in 1914 and 1915, and in 1923 became judge of the Flint Circuit of the Superior Court. He was the author of the parole law and the constitutional amendment permitting the establishment of county educational systems.

Judge Persons and his well-beloved brother, the late Robert Persons, came up the hard way, and felt always that they owed much to their cultured and industrious mother, who taught school to educate her sons after their father died. The brothers gave a substantial sum to Wesleyan in memory of their mother, Mary (Barry) Persons, an alumna of the college, and Persons Hall on the Kivoli campus is named in her honor.

Director of Research Laboratory

The only woman in the United States serving as director of a research laboratory is Miss Thelma Howell, professor of biology at Wesleyan. Miss Howell spent three and a half months last summer at the Highland Biological Laboratory in Highland, N. C.

Institutional members of the laboratory are Vanderbilt, University of Tennessee, Duke, University of North Carolina, University of Georgia and Wesleyan College. As director, Miss Howell was chairman of the Executive Board, the policy-making body of the laboratory, composed of representatives of each of the member institutions. Her own research was concerned with the blood of amphibians, and her most profitable and interesting week was the first week in September when the American Mycological Society had its summer foray at the laboratory, and she had an opportunity to meet and talk to outstanding authorities on fungi.

Betty Burnside	Katrina (Burnside) Lewis, 1915
Jeanne Cates	Margaret (Barge) Cates, 1927
Avalo Donovan	Lillian (Donovan) Chapman, 1902
Betty Dykes	Richard (Donovan) Warthen, 1913
Betty Rose Fambro (Conservatory)	*Aurie (Smith) Davis, 1876, (Great-aunt)
Sue Futral	Willie (Fincher) Herndon, 1924
Allee Gardiner	Lucile Fincher, 1919
Shirley Grimes	Florence (Weldon) Smith, 1934
Martha Groover	Helen (Ollitt) Weldon, 1935
Lillian Frances Girardeau	*Ruby (Jones) Grace, 1891, (Great-aunt)
Marian Hinson	*Lena (Hardeman) Chappell, 1894, (Great-aunt)
Bobbie Jackson	Lula Hardeman, 1897, (Great-aunt)
Joe Ann Jackson (Sophomore)	Elizabeth (Jones) Williamson, 1923
Anne McKay (Conservatory)	Alice (Gardiner) Stickley, 1917
Anne McMath (Conservatory)	Ruth (Gardiner) Knox, 1920
Lois McMath	Thelma (Faust) Reed, 1915
Virginia Mackay	Frances (Faust) Winn, 1916
Frances Mahone (Sophomore)	Dixie (Faust) Williams, 1920
Joanna Mauldin	Helen (Mullino) Newton, 1920
Marian Morris	Marion (Robison) Cox, 1920
Sarah Murphy	Helen (Cox) Inghram, 1921
Kathleen Pape (Conservatory)	Louise (Hinson) Covington, Cons. 1931
Virginia Pease	Aphia (Jackson) Finley, 1918
Joyce Roberts	Aphia (Jackson) Finley, 1918
Betty Smith	*Mary McKay, 1878, (Great-aunt)
Winston Smith	Sallie Lucy (Peabody) Griffith, 1898, (Great-aunt)
Meg Smith	Dorothy (McKay) Bollendonk, 1928
Nancy Wyatt	Burma (Baker) Peabody, 1932
Student	Louise (Pittman) Peabody, 1932
Harriet Adams	Pearl (Tinley) McMath, 1917
Martha Banks	Mattie Beulah (McMath) White, 1919
Rose Darby	Lois (McMath) Mathis, 1920
Dolores Jo Davis	Ruth (McMath) McKenzie, Cons. 1930
Rebecca Dodd (Conservatory)	Lena (McMath) Small, 1935
Dorothy Elyea	Pearl (Tinsley) McMath, 1917
Leila Frankland	Mattie Beulah (McMath) White, 1919
Mary Bird Horner	Ruth (McMath) McKenzie, Cons. 1930
Mary Lewis	Lena (McMath) Small, 1935
Anne McMath	Kathleen Mackay, Cons. 1928
Frances Mahone (Sophomore)	Louise (Mackay) Carlton, 1930
Marian Morris	*Lucia (Griswold) Hardeman, 1862 (Great-aunt)
Ann Howard Perry (Conservatory)	*Robertta (Hardeman) Jones, 1886
Emily Perry	Susie Adele (Berry) McCrory, 1885 (Great-aunt)
Betty Smith	Martha (Munro) Lightner, 1929
Mary Ellen Starnes	Celeste (Copelan) Williams, 1925
Martha Townes (Conservatory)	*Martha (Park) Culpepper, 1898 (Great-aunt)
Day Wilson	Hazel (Rogers) Barker, 1916
Sister of	Elizabeth (Allmond) Parks, 1929
Elizabeth (Adams) Stringfellow, 1946	Kathleen (Hudson) Garner, 1912
Beverly (Banks) Boland, 1949	Agnes Coleman, 1913
Frances (Darby) Wood, 1936	Edna (Boyd) Barwick, 1912
Crystelle (Darby) Chastain, 1938	Elizabeth (Stephenson) Clayton, 1926
Betty Darby, 1949	Angela (Anderson) Criswell, 1935
Jacquelyn (Davis) Elliott, 1949
Mathilda Dodd, Conservatory Sophomore
Elizabeth Elyea, Senior
Margaret Frankland, Cons. 1947
Frances (Horner) Middlebrooks, 1927
Marian Lewis, 1949
Frieda (Brown) McMath, Cons. 1941
Ruth (Mahone) Harris, 1936
Marybelle (Morris) Swift, 1946
Mary Edna (Weed) Perry, Cons. 1944
Marjorie Perry, 1947
Anne Hyer Smith, 1942
Virginia Starnes, Senior
Carolyn Townes, Cons. 1944
Jane Wilson, 1947
Marie Wilson, Senior

*Deceased

Ten Chinese Girls At Wesleyan

Front row, left to right: Georgiana Hseu, Paula Yu, Gracie Chu Lin, Jeanette Wei, Jessie Wun, Jane Ying Woo.
Back row, left to right: Gloria Euyang, Katherine Choy, Helen Wei, Leonora Kwok.

Wesleyan Alumnae Gather In Shanghai, China

By Dr. Florence Janson Sherriff, Professor of History and Government,
Wesleyan

A meeting of Wesleyan alumnae, mothers and relatives of Chinese students attending Wesleyan at the present time, and the faculty of McTyeire, well-known Methodist school for girls in Shanghai, was held at McTyeire on Friday afternoon, August 22, at 4:00 o'clock.

It was most appropriate that the meeting should have been held at this school, whose founder was a Wesleyan alumna, Laura Haygood, former principal of Girls' High School in Atlanta. Many of the Chinese students who have attended Wesleyan have had their elementary and secondary education at McTyeire, and Wesleyan has contributed a number of teachers to McTyeire.

The guests were graciously received by President Cheng Hsueh, and by other members of the faculty, including Miss Mary Blackford, Miss Louise Killingsworth, Miss Alice Alsup.

Shanghai is a very hot place in summer, and wise people choose cooler places to spend these months, Mokanshan, Kuling, or Tsingtao. The gathering was therefore small, but none the less enthusiastic.

Former Wesleyan students Loo Mei How (Mrs. Nelson Y. Chang), 1930; Loo Yee How (Mrs. Frank J. Ling), 1930; and Ming Hwa Nyeu (Mrs. Samuel Moy), 1931 got into a huddle and talked about old days at Wesleyan. They sent their greetings to Professor J. W. W. Daniel, remembered with gratitude President William F. Quillian, and spoke in loving terms of the Macon writer, the late Hary Stillwell Edwards, who had entertained them in his famous "Kingfisher Cabin" at Holly Bluff.

A number of guests represented the present Chinese girls in the Wesleyan student body. Mrs. S. Y. Hsueh, Secretary of the Chinese National Board of the Y.W.C.A. and a graduate of McTyeire, represented her daughter, Georgiana, former McTyeire student, now a Wesleyan junior. Mrs. Te-Ping, Hsi, who studied at one time both at Virginia School in Huchow and at the Laura Haygood Normal School, came to represent her two daughters, Mary Euyang (Mrs. David Ioh), and Gloria Euyang, last year's "Miss Charming" at Wesleyan. The sister-in-law of Katherine Choy, who is a former student of mine at St. John's University was also present. Mrs. J. Wang-Quincey, former teacher of music at McTyeire and now dean of women at St. John's brought her sister, Miss Vong Pan Sze, who is the principal of Susan P. Wilson School in Sungkang. She brought a message from this village to the Rev. W. B. Burke of Macon, who labored so long in China. The father of these two sisters was one of the early Chinese Methodist ministers in the Shanghai area.

I brought greetings from Wesleyan to the gathering. There was a feeling expressed by the guests that the ties between Wesleyan and McTyeire should be closer in the future. An annual scholarship in the name of Laura Haygood might be given each year to a graduate of McTyeire for study at Wesleyan, or the Wesleyan student body might raise a fund each year to send one of its graduating class to teach in McTyeire.

The principal of McTyeire sent her love to all of her former students now at Wesleyan. She told us that the tuition at McTyeire for the coming year is, because of the inflation of the currency in that country, one million six hundred thousand Chinese dollars.

The Wesleyan alumnae at the meeting hoped to hear from their classmates and friends in America. Loo Yee How (Mrs. Frank J. Ling) lives at Apartment 55, 131 Route Say Zoong, Shanghai, and her sister, Loo Mei How (Mrs. Nelson Y. Chang), at Apartment 28, 133 Route Say Zoong. Ming Hwa Nyeu (Mrs. Samuel O. Moy) lives at Apartment B4, 888 Edinburgh Rd., Shanghai. Her husband is employed by UNKRA, and she came to the meeting in an American "jeep." She expects to visit the United States in the spring, and plans a visit to Wesleyan at that time.

Renovation of Conservatory Buildings

During the summer extensive improvements were made in the buildings of Wesleyan Conservatory, under the direction of Alleen (Poer) Hinton, trustee and chairman of the trustee committee on buildings.

The major items in a program of repairs and renovations were completed when the college year opened in September. Some others are still in progress. These are:

(1) Purchase and conversion of an army building into an art building. This building is now ready for use at a cost of $7,000.

(2) Purchase of a new and modern switch board and play-production lighting equipment for the chapel stage at a cost of approximately $5,500.

(3) Removal of all fire hazards and repair for all fire escapes.

(4) Installation of a complete sprinkler system for the entire plant at a cost of $52,000.

(5) Installation of a new heating system in Main building, replacing one more than forty years old, at a cost of approximately $20,000.

(6) Building of an elevator shaft and installation of a modern elevator in Main building at a cost of $23,000.

(7) Waterproofing and a new maple floor in the gymnasium at a cost of $2,500.

(8) Removal of the laundry from its location under the dining room to the Rivoli campus at a cost of $9,000.

These installations and repairs are of great importance and will make possible a program of expansion.

The installation of a modern sprinkler system removes the fire hazard from the old college plant. Parents can now rest assured that at the Conservatory as well as at Rivoli Wesleyan has thrown about their children the best possible protection. Furthermore, these installations carry convincing proof of the permanency of the Conservatory division of Wesleyan College.

It should be borne in mind that the College has committed itself to a complete program of renovation. The installations mentioned above are only a part of this work. As funds are made available, we will proceed to convert the fifth floor of Main building into studios and classrooms, make alterations in the Chapel, convert the old laundry space into a classroom, and make all other improvements necessary for utility and beauty. It is our plan to complete the entire program of renovation by September, 1948.

Kirby of Newnan, and Catherine (Manget) Farmer of Newnan.

Dr. John Branscomb, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Orlando, Fla., succeeds the Rev. Ira Barnett, who resigned because his work prevents his attendance at trustee meetings. Dr. Branscomb is president of the Southeastern Jurisdictional Board of Missions and Church Extension of the Methodist Church, and is one of the outstanding young ministers of the Florida Conference of the Methodist Church.

For the Historical Collection

Martha (McCowen) Burnet, A.B. 1931, recently gave to Wesleyan the diploma and commencement badge of her grandmother, Mattie E. (Jones) Williams, of the class of 1881, and the B.M. diploma of her mother, Lena Mae (Williams) McCowen, of the class of 1907. Martha represents the third generation of her family to come to Wesleyan.

Eleanor (Whitehead) Simms, A.B. 1932, gave to Wesleyan the Adelphean badge which belonged to her aunt, Eunice T. Whitehead, A.B. 1894, and catalogs and programs of the college days of her grandmother Eunice (Thomson) Whitehead, 1868, and of her aunt, Mary (Whitehead) Mathis, A.B. 1903.

Beatrice (Bacon) Baker, A.B. 1875 of Wewoka, Oklahoma, recently sent to Wesleyan an Adelphean Program of 1874, on which she gave a recitation. Other names on the program are: Carrie Gilmer, Lula DuBose, Sallie Pellew, Mary Lane, Minnie Bass, Lillian Roberts, Leila Burke, Lilly Johnson, Jennie Jones, Mattie Lockett, Jeanne Villepigue, Alice Leverett, Belle Pound, Cora Nutting, Amelia Holmes, Emmie Goode, Sallie Snider, Fannie Prescott, Mamie Jackson, Mary Myers, Lena Shewmake, Mary Ford, Clara Smith, Blanche Nolan, Madge Snider, and Katie Ashburn.

A letter accompanying the program says: "My mother graduated at Wesleyan (then called 'Georgia Female College') in 1843. I shall be glad to send you her diploma for the historical collection."

Three New Wesleyan Trustees

At an important meeting of the Wesleyan Board of Trustees held on the Rivoli campus on October 16. Mr. William D. Anderson was reelected Chairman of the Board. Three new trustees were named:

Mr. Leo B. Huckabee of Macon who succeeds Mr. Thomas J. Stewart, is president of the Chamber of Commerce, president of the Huckabee Auto Company of Macon and of the Miller Motor Company of Albany, Ga. He was recently elected to the board of trustees of the South Georgia Conference. He is prominent in civic, religious, and business life of Macon. He is the son of the late Rev. W. A. Huckabee, member of the South Georgia Conference for years. He is a graduate of South Georgia College and of Meridian College, Meridian, Miss. He is vice-chairman of the Mulberry Street Methodist Church Board of Stewards. His daughter, Jane, now Mrs. O. V. Miller, is a graduate of the class of 1940 at Wesleyan.

Mr. Dan T. Manget of Newnan succeeds the late Dr. W. C. Wardlaw. He is the son of the late Prof. and Mrs. Victor Manget, and the brother of Dr. Fred J. Manget, medical missionary to China, now in charge of a hospital in Hoochow. He is president of Manget Brothers, cotton merchants. He is the father of three Wesleyan alumnae, Olive Dent (Manget) Bramblett of Griffin, Carolyn (Manget)

Final Report On The Loyalty Fund For 1946-47

The August issue of the Wesleyan Alumnae magazine carried a list of contributors at the time of going to press. Since the Alumnae fiscal year ends on August 31, there have been additional contributors to add to the total number, and their names are given below.

The total number of contributors to the fund for 1946-47 is:
772 individuals
6 clubs

The total amount contributed during the year just ended was:
$18,450.02

1874—$10.00 Mary Tom (Ford) Walker	1898—$5.00 Louise Bonnell
1875—$5.00 Minnie (Iverson) Randolph	Mary (Callaway) Jones
1883—$504.00 Dorothy (Blount) Lamar	Susie (Stevens) Jones
Mary Louise (Mustin) Carr
1884—$5.00 Hannah Hines	1900—$2.00 Eva (Gantt) Lane
1885—$5.00 Fanny (Cherry) Garner	1901—$5.00 Ouida (Beauchamp) Winn
1886—$10.00 Elizabeth (Leonard) Hightower	1902—$11.00 Annie (Daniel) Brown
1893—$4.00 MaBelle (Bonnell) Poer	1903—$27.00 Rosebud (Bivings) Timmons
Mary Bix (Bryan) Lawrence	Mary E. Dozier
Emma (Walker) Wyly	1904—$12.00 Leila Anderson
1895—$5.00 Nora (Wood) Ware	Regina (Hays) Asher
1896—$10.00 Sara (Turner) Houser	1905—$6.00 Elizabeth Rogers
1897—$1.00 Rosa (Guerry) Snowden	Woodie (Schley) Campbell
	1907—$5.00 Jane (Moss) Fields

THE PRESIDENT WANTS TO KNOW

(AND SO DO WE!)

Remember the return post card President Johnson sent you asking what you "are doing out in the world?"

If you are one of the 1,800 who sent it back filled out, we thank you on his behalf and our own.

If you are one of the many who didn't, and you still have the card, please fill it out and mail it.

If the card is mislaid, please fill out the blank below and mail it to him.

The President is much interested in the replies he has received. He only wishes there were more of them.

The cards received have helped us also by correcting a number of addresses in the Alumnae Office files.

PLEASE DO IT NOW (if you haven't done it already)!

RETURN TO:
President Silas Johnson
Wesleyan College
Macon, Georgia

Name _____

Address _____

Occupation _____

(Housewife, teacher, social worker, secretary, etc. etc.)

Present Position _____

Maiden Name _____

(If married)

1909—$287.00 Louise (Davis) Davison TeCoah (Hendry) Lewis Susan Leonard Anna (Quillian) Jones	1912—$5.00 Petrona (Humber) Hean
1914—$6.00 Susie P. Brown Flora McDonald	1915—$10.00 Margaret (Harris) Freeman Birdie (Wood) Orr
1918—$23.00 Dorothy Dodd Mary Louise (Gramling) Braly Lillian (McRae) Roush Sue (Tanner) McKenzie	1919—$10.00 Mattie Beulah (McMath) White
1921—$2.00 Bessie Sue (Taylor) Gaines	1923—$5.00 Rebekah (Oliphant) Anthony
1924—$10.00 Honorable (Bollinger) VanZant Elizabeth Malone	1925—$5.00 Annie Lawrence (Riley) Sawyer
1926—$6.00 Elizabeth Martin Margaret (Zattau) Roan	1928—$21.00 Roberta (Jones) Gardiner Lucile (Lyon) Callaway Anna Browne (Small) Paden Ethel (Rogers) Beaver
1929—$12.00 Lois (Holder) Hagan Lillian (Shearouse) Anderson	1930—$13.00 Elizabeth (Joyner) Rainey Helen (Witherspoon) Mattox
1931—$27.00 Safford Harris Elizabeth (Woodward) Bradley	1932—$5.00 Martha (Morgan) Nickel
1933—$23.00 Marjorie (Andrews) Sumerford Carolyn (Bacon) Beard Ernestine Bledsoe Marianna Crittenden	1935—$5.00 Mary Elizabeth Venable
1936—$20.00 Brownie Buck Mary Ann (Peacock) Powell	1937—$5.00 Gladys (Morrison) Wiggins
1938—$10.00 Emmie (Leonard) Martin	1939—$5.00 Mary Louise Cordes
1940—$25.00 Alice Domingos Ruth (Hall) Knox	1941—$13.00 Frances (Jones) Duskin Helen (Lovein) Jackson Sara Louise (Turner) Butler
1942—$10.00 Anne Hyer Smith	1943—$2.00 Sarah Ann White
1944—$7.00 Margaret Link Mary Ann (Mathews) Pease	1945—$41.00 Lois Anderson Mary Nell Arnold Dimple Brison Harry (Edwards) Bateman Virginia (Harris) Howard Elizabeth (Jones) Rutland
1946—$13.50 Lina (Jones) Arnold Mary (McCord) Tierney Jane (Spearman) Struby	1947—$10.25 Patsy (Stapp) Nadon
Columbus Club—$135.00 (In addition to $65 already given)	Miscellaneous—$12.00 (From alumnae who had already given, and increased their gifts)

Benefactor Dies

Mr. W. C. Bradley of Columbus, former chairman of the board of the Coca-Cola Co., one of the South's wealthiest men and one of Wesleyan's generous benefactors, died at his home July 26 at the age of 84.

Mr. Bradley was the father-in-law of Mr. D. Abbott Turner of Columbus, Wesleyan trustee, and the grandfather of two Wesleyan alumnae, Sarah Louise (Turner) Butler, A.B. 1941, and Betty Turner, A.B. 1947.

Several years ago Mr. Bradley organized the Bradley Benevolent and Educational Association, a philanthropic institution, and also established the Sarah H. and W. C. Bradley Cancer Clinic at the hospital in Columbus. The clinic now has a $30,000 building under construction.

Religious Emphasis Week

Religious Emphasis Week was observed on the Rivoli campus November 11-13, with the Rev. James W. May, Methodist minister from Colquitt, as guest speaker. Emily Bell of Lookout Mountain, Tenn., president of the Y.W.C.A., made the announcement at a meeting of the student body in October.

The Rev. Mr. May returned recently from active duty with the armed forces in England, France, and Germany, where he served as chaplain. He did his undergraduate work at Emory, where he was editor of The Wheel, and also studied at Union Theological Seminary, where he was elected president of the student body.

Sponsored by the college Y.W.C.A., Religious Emphasis Week is held twice a year, in the spring and in the fall.

Methodist Students Meet At Wesleyan

Some 200 delegates from Georgia colleges and universities met at Wesleyan during the fall holidays, November 6-8.

The theme for the conference, "Christians in an Unchristian Society" was discussed by the principal speaker, Dr. John Rustin, pastor of Mt. Vernon Methodist Church in Washington, D. C. Other prominent leaders were the Rev. W. G. Henry, executive secretary of the North Georgia Conference of the Methodist Church, Mr. Harvey Brown of Nashville, the Rev. Frederick Wilson of Emory, Mr. Thomas Raybun, formerly of McRae, and the Rev. Edmund Perry, director of the Wesley Foundation of G.S.C.W. and G.M.C. in Milledgeville.

Library Has New Space For Books

The Candler Memorial Library has recently undergone momentous changes, and the space where stacks of magazines and newspapers are kept has been doubled. A new mezzanine floor was added, and new book stacks installed, complete with an adequate new lighting system. Provision was made for this expansion when the library was built, but the war and shortage of materials delayed the improvement for some years.

Work was begun in the summer, and when college opened there was still banging and clanging of hammers and pouring of concrete, all of which made it hard to recognize the usually soundless and peaceful library on the Rivoli campus. Students cooperated in preserving order as much as was humanly possible, and the new stacks are now complete, and most helpful.

In October Miss Katharine Carnes, librarian, was away from the campus for two weeks visiting libraries on other college campuses, and getting new ideas for the Wesleyan libraries at the liberal arts college and the conservatory.

Former Wesleyan Professor Publishes Books

The students and faculty will be interested to know that Dr. A. M. Winchester's books on Zoology, The Science of Animal Life has now come off the press and is being used in quite a number of colleges and universities this fall. Dr. Winchester served as head of the biology department last year and is now head of the biology department of Stetson University, DeLand, Florida. Several students helped in the details of preparing the manuscript and illustrations. The book surveys the animal kingdom and is illustrated with many drawings and photographs which Dr. Winchester made himself. Many of the photographs were made from specimens which Wesleyan students brought in to the biology laboratory last year. The D. Van Nostrand Company of New York published the book and Dr. Winchester is now writing a biology textbook which will appear in about a year. It will contain a number of pictures of Wesleyan girls.

CLUBS

ATLANTA

The Wesleyan Alumnae Club of Atlanta, according to their annual custom, gave a luncheon in honor of the Atlanta girls who were leaving for Wesleyan on September 2 at the East Lake Country Club.

Group V of the club acted as hostesses for the occasion, with Jacqueline (Howard) Edwards, '38, as chairman of arrangements, and Martha (Aiken) Pendergrass, '42, as chairman of invitations.

Nonie (Acree) Quillian, '09, president of the club, presided. Special guests from the college were Dr. and Mrs. Silas Johnson, Miss Annabel Horn, dean of the conservatory, and Miss Ruth Simonson, head of the department of speech.

BIRMINGHAM

The Wesleyan Alumnae Club of Birmingham, Alabama, honored Lila May Chapman, A.B. 1890, with a tea at the home of Martha (Lamar) Wynne, 1907, on Balmoral Road on September 17.

LeVert (Shepherd) Eubanks, 1930, president of the club, Slaton (McKillop) Gaines, 1922, and Virginia Tullis, 1939, vice-president and secretary-treasurer of the club, received with the honoree.

The occasion was a farewell party for Lila May Chapman, who retired as librarian of the Birmingham Public Library after 38 years in this position. She is making her home now in Macon, 1420 Oglethorpe Street, and as a former trustee of Wesleyan and Alumnae Chairman of the Committee on Bequests, takes an active part in the work of the Alumnae Association of her Alma Mater.

Shortly before leaving Birmingham, Lila May Chapman had on exhibit at the library 92 fine etchings from her private collection of etchings and prints. She is also a collector of glass, and has many fine specimens of glassware.

AUGUSTA

The Wesleyan Alumnae Club of Augusta with Ida (Stephens) Williams as president, entertained the six Augusta girls who were leaving for Wesleyan in September. A lovely picture of the girls appeared in the Augusta Herald for September 14. They were: Charlotte Drawdy, Nancy Cumming, Carolyn Lee, Eugenia Toold, Mary Bailey, and Barbara Seitz. The party was given at the home of Elizabeth Jones, 1929.

MACON

The Macon Club, with Belle (Ross) Valentine as president, held its first meeting of the year on November 13 at the Conservatory to make plans for sponsoring a lecture on November 20 by Forrest (Pitts) Blackwell of Birmingham, Alabama, on "Furniture through the Ages."

WASHINGTON, D. C.

Those of us at the last meeting of the Washington Wesleyan Alumnae Club (a luncheon meeting on May 24 at the Burlington Hotel) so enjoyed Kathryn (Hopper) Connolly's program on Wesleyan that we were a bit envious of Cornelia (Adams) Heath's being able to go down for Commencement when her daughter, Eva, received her degree.

Kitty talked informally about the changes that have taken place at Wesleyan since we were there, and told of future plans, including the Alumnae Building plan, and the success of "Alice in Wonderland." This latter was made even more interesting to me because of the fact that Lelia (Aiken) Tenney, who had attended the Atlanta "opening night" performance, was at the meeting and afterward gave an account of it.

With Carol Arnold at the piano, Effie Clyde (Landrum) Shelton led us in singing the Alma Mater.

New officers elected at the meeting were:

President — Odille (Dasher) Phelts, 1930.

Treasurer — Anne (Morton) Morton, 1935.

Program Chairman—Kathryn (Hopper) Connolly, 1941.

Secretary—Marion Taylor, 1943.

Corresponding Secretary—Susan Magette, 1938.

Telephone Chairman—Annette (Richardson) Chappell, 1929.

Visiting Chairman—Louise (Kainey) Price, 1927.

During the coming year I shall keep more in touch with my Wesleyan friends. During this past year I have been learning about foreign exchange, etc., for my work with Riggs National Bank.

My very best wishes to Wesleyan for a successful year ahead.

Susan Magette, Secretary.

Chapman—Affleck

Ruth Chapman, Secretarial 1946, to Jack H. Affleck of Decatur, August 30.

Combs—Moskal

Mary Ann Combs, Conservatory 1948, to Thomas George Moskal, Jr., of Atlanta and Spring Valley, N. Y., in September.

Cone—Snooks

Jean Cone, B.F.A. 1945, to Bartow Randolph Snooks, Jr., of Ailey, in the early fall.

Dasher—Stewart

Catherine Dasher, Conservatory 1950, to Marcus Greene Stewart of Gray, September 2.

Davis—Goodwin

Nancy Davis, A.B. 1947, to Kenneth Russell Goodwin of Danville, Ky., and Auburn, Ala., in August.

Farrar—Thomas

Geraldine Farrar, A.B. 1947, to George N. Thomas, Jr., of Atlanta, September 12.

Folsom—Dyer

Beverly Folsom, 1949, to Samuel Edwin Dyer of Decatur, in the early fall.

Gibbs—Demmond

Margie Gibbs, A.B. 1947, to William Baker Demmond of Savannah, June 14.

Giglia—Johnson

Mary Giglia, A.B. 1947, to Herbert L. Johnson, Jr., of Memphis, Tenn., and Atlanta in the summer.

Hardwick—Reddick

Ann Hardwick, Conservatory 1949, to W. Homer Reddick of Cairo, September 4.

Harvel—Taylor

Gertrude Harvel, Conservatory 1947, to Frank Allison Taylor of West Palm Beach, Florida, June 14.

Johnson—Wildman

Jo Johnson, 1950 to Charles Wildman of Lake Wales, Fla., September 10.

Jones—Arnold

Lina Jones, A.B. 1946, to Dr. Maurice Franklin Arnold, Jr., of Macon in the early fall.

Longley—Hicks

Lila Longley, 1945, to W. Eugene Hicks, Jr., of Atlanta, in the fall.

Loyall—Anderson

Jennie Loyall, A.B. 1912, to William Dickson Anderson of Macon, September 10.

McKinnon—Austin

Ellen McKinnon, Secretarial, 1946, to Robert F. Austin of Jacksonville and Miami, July 26.

Mallard—Acree

Emily Mallard, Conservatory 1946, to Eugene Howard Acree of Jacksonville, Fla., September 11.

WEDDINGS

Allen—Brown

Elizabeth Allen, 1941, to Franklin Alvin Brown of Rome, engagement announced in July.

Anderson—Sheffield

Caroline Anderson, 1947, to Lt. Richard Alston Sheffield, USN, of Oakland, California, in July.

Ballentine—Coleman

Lynn Ballentine, Conservatory, 1947, to Donald Plant Coleman of Macon, August 2.

Banks—Boland

Beverly Banks, 1949, to Charles Gallo-way Boland, Jr., of Atlanta, in the late summer.

Barnes—Grant

Frances Barnes, A.B. 1942, to George Clarence Grant of Macon, engagement announced in October.

Bosch—Titterton

Winifred Bosch, A.B. 1945, to William DeWitt Titterton of New York, June 14.

Branch—Stanton

Elizabeth Branch, 1944, to Dr. William Batt Stanton of Emory University, October 4.

Burton—McDonald

Louise (Hotch) Burton, Conservatory 1946, to Ray Wood McDonald of Brunswick, September 27.

Carlton—Blanchard

Anne Carlton, A.B. 1947, to Richard Eugene Blanchard of Atlanta and Paw Creek, N. C., August 30.

Carrington—Marvin

Anna Lou Carrington, A.B. 1941, to Robert Earl Marvin of Bonnie Doone Plantation, Ritter, S. C., in November.

Miller—Brown

Joyce Miller, Conservatory 1946, to Lt. Richard Thomson Brown of Robins Field, October 26.

Parkins—Heard

Jean Parkins, A.B. 1947, to John Mark Heard, Jr., of Macon in early September.

Patton—Butler

Mary Anne Patton, A.B. 1947, to Jack Allen Butler of Columbus, in September.

Pittman—Hamlett

Betty Pittman, 1949, to Robert Franklin Hamlett of Brunswick, October 11.

Rees—Veatch

Elinor Reese, A.B. 1944, to Julian Lamar Veatch of Atlanta, September 6.

Rice—Nickerson

Shirley Rice, Secretarial, 1945, to Charles Augustus Nickerson of Macon, September 5.

Roberts—Favors

Huliette Roberts, Conservatory secretarial 1942, to John Grady Favors of Macon, in the fall.

Rountree—Turner

Jean Rountree, Conservatory 1947, to Robert Gibbs Turner, Jr., of Greer, S. C., September 6.

Smith—Baird

Geneva (Davidson) Smith, A.B. 1944, to Lyman Rentz Baird, Jr., of Macon and Atlanta, September 23.

Smith—Mines

Margaret Smith, A.B. 1947, to Robert Emmett Mines of Cartersville, August 19.

Sockwell—McMullan

Charlotte Sockwell, A.B. 1947, to J. C. McMullan of Opelika, Ala., in the summer.

Spivey—Rountree

Christine Spivey, A.B. 1940, to Walter Hodges Rountree of Swainsboro, July 9.

Thompson—Tucker

Helen Thompson, A.B. 1947, to William David Tucker of Lookout Mountain, Tenn., and Athens, Ga., September 9.

Train—Stimson

Rebecca Train, A.B. 1947, to Thomas F. Stimson of Chattanooga, Tenn., in September.

Turner—Raley

Helen Turner, 1947, to Marion Sidney Raley of Macon, October 30, 1942, marriage announced in July, 1947.

Vineyard—Holmes

Cornelia Vineyard, Conservatory 1950, to Edward Alonzo Holmes, Jr., of Sandersville, October 18.

Westberry—Morris

Ruth Westberry, Conservatory 1950, to Robert Warren Morris of Lakeland, Florida, June 14.

Wheat—Dykes

Jean Wheat, A.B. 1927, to Doyle T. Dykes of Macon, in the summer.

Wilkinson—Mills

Betty Wilkinson, A.B. 1945, to Major Carroll Mills of Ozark, Ala., July 3.

Williams—Thompson

Esther Williams, A.B. 1942, to Leonard Reginald Thompson of Somerville, Mass., in July.

Winterbottom—Wiggins

Elizabeth Ann Winterbottom, 1947, to Carl Wiggins, Jr., of Charleston, S. C., July 15.

Yarbrough—Pinholster

Gustie Yarbrough, A.B. 1928, to James Cecil Pinholster of Macon, September 26.

IN MEMORIAM

Jennie (Moreland) Sadler, 1872

Kittie (Jewett) Williams, 1875

Lee Dunklin, 1880

Matilda (Morton) Snelling, 1884

Minnie Fay Rice, 1886

Eunice T. Whitehead, 1894

Leone (Brannon) Mitchell, 1921

Lillian (Chapman) Dykes, 1921

CLASS NOTES

(We give our Youngest Alumnae, the Class of 1947, first place in this issue of the magazine.)

1947College of Liberal Arts
News

Rosaline Allison—Office receptionist in Augusta, Ga.

Marijean Allsop—Working with her father, 2214 Coventry, Lakeland, Fla.

Jean Anderson, 222 E. John Calvin Ave., College Park, Ga.

Miriam Angell—Keeping house. Mrs. R. T. Macomber, 233 Fifth Ave. N., St. Petersburg, Fla. Will join husband on the road soon.

Virginia Bell—Sandersville, Ga.

Barbara Binns—2610 Pecan St., Columbus, Ga. Secretary to principal of Columbus High School.

Nina Bishop—Left home August 24 for an extended vacation in California. Address, Starke, Fla.

Sally Bowen—Teaching in Newnan, Ga.

Martha Bradford—Secretarial position with Central City Bag Co., in Macon, 760 Date Ave., Macon, Ga.

Emily Britton—See "Weddings" (August magazine), Mrs. P. W. Parker, Ray City, Ga.

Frances Callaway—Selling personalized bedspreads for firm in Dalton, Ga.

Jeannette Campbell—Teaching in grammar school in Macon, 110 Euclid Ave., Macon, Ga.

Anne Carlton—See "Weddings". Studying at Emory, Mrs. R. E. Blanchard, Emory University, Ga.

Lillian Cazin—Owner of "Bridal Shop" in Tampa, 1914 Carmen St., Tampa, Fla.

Betsy Chipman—Studying for B.F.A. at Wesleyan Conservatory, Wesleyan Conservatory, Macon, Ga.

Annie Chu Lin—At home, recovering from illness, 421 Valliant St., Greenville, Miss.

Beverly Daniel—Teaching first grade in Vann Dale, Ark.

Nancy Davis—See "Weddings". Teaching in West Point, Ga.; husband studying at Auburn. Mrs. Kenneth Goodwin, West Point, Ga.

Peggy Derby—Assistant librarian for Winthrop-Stearns Chemical Co., Rensselaer, N. Y. Address, 13 McKinley St., Albany, N. Y.

Georgann Dessau—Studying interior decorating in New York. 2524 Forsyth Rd., Macon, Ga.

Doris Dickerson—Clayton, Ga.

Letitia Eason—Teaching at home, Collins, Ga.

Jane Epps—Teaching first grade in Atlanta, 1048 Euclid Ave. N.E., Atlanta, Ga.

Geraldine Farrar—See "Weddings". In Atlanta while husband is studying at Tech. Mrs. George Thomas, Jr., c/o S. L. Farrar, 1308 Vineville Ave., Macon.

Jean Gerner—Training as a buyer at Rich's, c/o Rich's Atlanta, Ga.

Margie Gibbs—See "Weddings". Teaching music and French in Chatham Jr. High, Savannah. Mrs. W. B. Demmond, Chatham Junior High School, Savannah, Georgia.

Mary Giglia—See "Weddings", to live in Atlanta, while husband studies at Emory. Mrs. H. L. Johnson, Jr., c/o Mrs. Jimmie Giglia, 1923 Carmen St., Tampa, Florida.

Nina Godwin—Secretarial work in Louisville, Ky. 1709 Cowling, Louisville 4, Ky.

Hazel Gomez—Teaching English in Puerto Rico. 35 Morell Campos, Santurco, Puerto Rico.

Nell Hardeman—Working on M.A. at Univ. of Georgia. University of Georgia, Athens, Ga.

Frances Harris—Studying at the Univ. of Georgia. 538 University Drive, Athens, Georgia.

Martha Haynes—Social service work in Winter Haven, Fla.

Eva Heath—Teaching in Atlanta Ga. 797 St. Charles Ave. N.E., Atlanta. Ga.

Mae Hightower—In charge of her own gift shop in Dublin, Ga.

Dorothy Hitchcock—Moultrie, Ga.

Ann Hoyle—426 E. 50th St., Savannah, Georgia.

Annabelle Jarratt—Working on B.F.A. at Wesleyan Conservatory, Macon, Ga.

Harriet Loeb—3303 Roxboro Rd. N.E., Atlanta, Ga.

Jean Lowe—Doing newspaper work in Florida, Ormond, Florida.

Elizabeth Lundy—Assistant to pastor and director of religious ed. at First M. E. Church, Knoxville. 2706 Magnolia St., Knoxville, Tenn.

Juliet Lynch—Rumor says "Engaged." Academy Drive, Chase City, Va.

Lamar McCaw—Working on M.A. degree at Columbia, Columbia University, New York City, N. Y.

Mary Alice McDougall—Studying at High Museum of Art. 275 Blackland Rd. N.W., Atlanta, Ga.

Jane Anne Mallet—Studying on fellowship at Emory University. Emory University, Ga.

Doris Marsh—State welfare social worker in Dade City, Fla.

Helen Mathews—Teaching third grade at Guatamo Naval Base. Guatamo Naval Base, Cuba.

Betty Morgan—520 Orange St., Macon, Ga.

Annie Laurie Morrow—Plans to go with Delta Air Lines. West Point, Ga.

Genella Nye—We hear she is married. Husband in college.

Frances Oehmig—Working in society department of Chattanooga News-Free Press. 62 N. Crest Rd., Chattanooga, Tennessee.

Peggy Anne Pangborn—Working at Emory Univ. Hospital. 1299 Oakdale Rd., Atlanta, Ga.

Jean Parkins—See "Weddings." Mrs. John M. Heard, Jr., 435 Kingsley Dr., Macon, Ga.

Margaret Parsons—Studying at High Museum, Atlanta, Ga. Duluth, Ga.

Mary Anne Patton—See "Weddings." Mrs. J. A. Butler, Columbus, Ga.

Marjorie Perry—900 Napier Ave., Macon, Ga.

Septima Porcher—Spent summer at Camp Nakanana in Mayland, Tenn. Working in Atlanta, with Southern Bell T. and T. Co. 205 Rumson Rd. N.E., Atlanta, Ga.

Betty Ray—Keeping house. Mrs. Paul Findlay, 125 Ninth Ave. N.E., St. Petersburg, Fla.

Edna Roach—503 Santell Ave. S.E., Atlanta, Ga.

Betty Rosser—Working on M.A. in art at Univ. of Ga. 538 University Drive, Athens, Ga.

Rosa Schofield—Had lovely vacation at Lake Louise with her mother; now at home, 249 Stanislaus Circle, Macon, Ga.

Mildred Scott—See "Weddings" (August magazine). Mrs. J. T. McGoldrick, 101 Carlton Way, Macon, Ga.

Rena Shaefer—Associate to John McMahon, Acting Consultant in Hollywood, Cal. Teaches dramatics and promotes pupils to the movies. Hollywood Hotel, Hollywood, Calif.

Margaret Smith—See "Weddings." Mrs. R. E. Mines, c/o Mrs. W. M. Smith, Cartersville, Ga.

Sara Smith—Working in personnel department of the Southern Bell Telephone Co., in Atlanta. Oak Grove Road, Route No. 3, Decatur, Ga.

Charlotte Sockwell—See "Weddings." Mrs. J. C. McMullan, 510 S. 7th St., Opelika, Ala.

Mary Spencer—Alachua, Fla.

Julie Struby—Studying with her husband at the University of Wisconsin. Mrs. E. W. Burke, Jr., University of Wisconsin, Madison, Wisconsin.

Gladys Tarpley—Fairburn, Ga.

Betty Thompson—Director of Public Relations, Wesleyan College. Wesleyan Conservatory, Macon, Ga.

Helen Thompson—See "Weddings." Mrs. W. D. Tucker, 1892 South Lumpkin St., Athens, Ga.

Mary Jo Thompson—Teaching in Collins, Ga. Collins, Ga.

Gloria Thornton—See "Weddings" (August magazine). Mrs. W. W. Orr, 523 Vineville Ave., Macon, Ga.

Rebecca Train—See "Weddings." Mrs. T. F. Stimson, 23 Rivermont Dr., Chattanooga, Tenn.

Betty Turner—At home 2112 Wynnton Rd., Columbus, Ga.

Harriet Weatherly—Teaching in Moultrie, Ga. Moultrie, Ga.

Jean Wheat—See "Weddings." Mrs. Doyle T. Dykes.

Betty Jane Wheeler—Teaching fourth grade in Rome schools. 101 Woodrest Dr., Rome, Ga.

Lois Wheeler—Studying at Emory University, Emory University, Ga.

Mary White—Social case worker with the Red Cross in Jacksonville, 3546 Oak St., Jacksonville, Fla.

Betty Whitehead—Teaching math and vocational guidance in Lavonia, Ga. Lavonia, Ga. To be married in December to Lt. Cmdr. James B. Sweeney.

Jane Wilson—Teaching in Griffin, Griffin, Ga.

Adeline Wood—Studying for degree in journalism at Emory. Emory University, Georgia.

Virginia Wood—Plans to work in Atlanta this year. 1463 Cameron Ct. Atlanta, Georgia.

Margaret Woods—Reynolds, Ga.

Martha Worsham—375 College St., Macon, Ga. Teaching at Ft. Hawkins School, Macon.

Conservatory Graduates

Caroline Ashley—Teaching in Clinton, S. C.

Denise Auld—In Atlanta, where husband is intern. Mrs. C. L. Meadows, c/o Mrs. E. M. Auld, Vidalia, Ga.

Eugenia Corley—Keeping house in Macon. Mrs. H. E. Simmons, Jr., 113 Corbin Ave., Macon, Ga.

Carol Everett—At home. 2114 Woodland Hgts. Anniston, Ala.

Iris Fountain—Teaching public school music in Savannah, Ga. 416 E. 46th St., Savannah, Ga.

Bettie Hall—See "Weddings." August magazine. Mrs. E. D. Dunn, 132 Mimosa Pl., Decatur, Ga.

Annie Halley—Rumor says "Engaged." Reynolds, Ga.

Eleanor Hawk—3573 Boone Park Ave., Jacksonville, Fla.

Winifred Hopkins—Working with Veterans' Administration in Brunswick. 1000 Egmont St., Brunswick, Ga.

Mitzi Hyman—On tour, with The Barter Theatre, state theatre of Virginia. c/o The Barter Theatre, Abingdon, Va.

Lois McGeachy—Post-Graduate work at Wesleyan Conservatory. Wesleyan Conservatory, Macon, Ga.

Willene McGee—Teaching music in Fitzgerald, Ga.

Lucretia McGibony—Now Mrs. Glass. Teaching in Greensboro, Ga.

Jettie Palmer—Fashion design work in Atlanta.

Jo Patterson—With The Barter Theatre. c/o The Barter Theatre, Abingdon, Virginia.

Luetta Roan—Working in fashion department, Rich, Schwartz and Joseph. c/o Rich, Schwartz and Joseph, Nashville, Tennessee.

Betty Shipp—See "Weddings" (August magazine). Mrs. M. E. Anderson, Jr., 836 Hillyer Ave., Macon, Ga.

Antoinette Smith—See "Weddings" (May magazine). Mrs. T. B. Suiter, Jr., Rocky Mount, N. C.

Merle Sosna—Working in dept. of fashion design at Miller's Store in Knoxville, Tenn. 3815 Keowee Dr., Knoxville, Tenn.

Rosemarie Thomas—With The Barter Theatre. c/o The Barter Theatre, Abingdon, Va.

Gracie Thompson—Working with radio station WKEU, Griffin, Griffin, Ga.

Janice Walker—Teaching public school art in upper New York state.

Ruth Wong—Typist—Clerks for California Department of Public Health, 1032 Pacific Ave., San Francisco, Calif.

1872

In the death of Jennie (Moreland) Sadler of Grantville Wesleyan lost one of her oldest and most loyal alumnae. She was a member of the Philomathean Society at Wesleyan, and her life-long friends were Wesleyan schoolmates. Soon after leaving Wesleyan she married Mr. Otis Jones of Atlanta, who lived only a few years. One son, Col. Robert Otis Jones of Newnan, was the only child of this marriage. After many years she married Mr. W. G. Sadler of Virginia, then residing in Grantville. Their son, Lown-des Sadler, died September 4, 1946, at 54 years of age. Her only sister, Fannie (Moreland) Arnold, was a graduate of Wesleyan in the class of 1876, and Fannie's two daughters attended Wesleyan, Jennie Banks (Arnold) Baxter, who died about a year ago, in the class of 1901, and Lucile (Arnold) Mangham of Atlanta in the class of 1912.

1880

The class of 1880 will be grieved to learn of the death of Lee Dunklin of Macon, in Aurora, Ill., in October after a long illness. She was a member of the Adelphean Society at Wesleyan, and was a member of the First Baptist Church, of the D.A.K. and U.D.C. Surviving are several nieces and nephews.

1885

The class of '85 will be interested in this letter from Laura Hammond, sister of Julia Hammond of Atlanta:

"My sisters, Jennie and Julia, both attended Wesleyan, Jennie graduating in 1876 and becoming Mrs. James H. Gilbert, Julia graduating in 1885. Jennie died August 22, 1938, leaving her home to Julia and me. In November, 1940, my sister Julia was taken very ill and went to Emory University Hospital where she still is. She has never been well enough to be dismissed, although she does not suffer and has beautiful, tender care. She is still beautiful and everyone in the hospital loves her. She received first honor in her class." The class of '85 will grieve to learn of Julia's long illness, but rejoice that she has such a sister to care for her.

The Woman's Missionary Union, a publication of the Baptist Church, carried an article on August 14, 1947 about Janie May (Weston) Chapman and her work through the years with the Woman's Missionary Union of South Carolina. This remarkable woman has the distinction of being in the first group of women trustees of the South Carolina Baptist Colleges, and she was the first woman trustee of Anderson College. She organized the W.M.S. in St. Paul's Negro Church in Anderson, S. C., and served for two long terms as state president of the State W.M.U. in South Carolina. As the wife of a Baptist minister, and the mother of six children, she led a busy life. Only one of her children is now living, Judson William Chapman, editor of the Greenville, S. C., Piedmont. Since 1930 when Janie May (Weston) Chapman retired as president of the W.M.U., she has lived a quiet life, but has kept up her interest in Christian service. Into the family six grandsons came, who have been close comrades. Four of them served in the war; John, a geological engineer, helped to map the coast country of the U. S., and then was transferred to France and post-war work in Germany; Paul was in the army air service, in the ferry command; Judson William Jr., was in the navy, and made a fine record as lieutenant in the Philippines and Okinawa battles; James, the father of two little boys, was in the Philippines; George finished high school and volunteered for two years in the navy just before the war came to an end. There are now five great-grandchildren. Her oldest son, James Davis Chapman, auditor of the Otis Elevator Company in New York, died in January, 1946. Mrs. Chapman celebrated her 80th birthday May 5, 1947, which her good friends made quite an occasion. Her limited strength requires a quiet life, but her interest in Wesleyan continues always.

The class of 1885 was grieved to learn of the death in April of May (Goodman) Vickers, a loyal alumna of Wesleyan. She had made her home during recent years with her children. Her daughter, Ruth (Vickers) Fulwood, is a member of the class of 1912; Elsie (Vickers) Cardwell, 1914. Her daughter-in-law, Elizabeth (Gibson) Vickers, is an alumna of 1918, and her sister, Harriet (Goodman) Harman, of the class of 1898.

1889

The Wesleyan Christian Advocate carried a picture in August of Ada (McElhannon) Holder and her husband of Jefferson, who have been married for 56 years and have attended 54 successive sessions of the North Georgia conference. Mr. Holder has been a steward for 53 years. He was prominent in Georgia politics, serving as State Senator, Speaker of the House, and Chairman of the Highway Board.

Sara Lynn Branham of Oxford, Ga., niece of Sara (Branham) Mathews, 1907, and of Lynn Branham, 1886, was married to Charles Houston Watts of East Point on August 1. She is a great-granddaughter of Elizabeth (Flournoy) Branham, of the Wesleyan class of 1840.

Blanche (Hall) Neel had an operation for cataract in September, and is making a wonderfully rapid recovery.

1892

Belle (Collins) Hemphill is a great-granddaughter of James Dean, who was instrumental in establishing Wesleyan and who, as one of the early trustees, saved the college during a financial crisis. Her grandmother was Arabella (Dean) Jones, A.B. '45, and her great-aunt, Henrietta (Dean) Lamar, A.B. '44, James Dean's daughters.

1893

Lula (Fulghum) Vincent's son, John Carter Vincent, was recently appointed by President Truman U. S. Minister to Switzerland. Vincent has been in the diplomatic service in the Orient, and recently has been director of the State Department's Office of Far Eastern Affairs. With foreign diplomatic interest now centering in Europe rather than in the Far East, Vincent's appointment to the Swiss post is construed in Macon, his home city, as further testimony of his ability in the diplomatic corps.

1894

Julia Goodall wrote in answer to a questionnaire sent out by her Alma Mater: "My mother, three of her sisters, and her five daughters are all graduates of Wesleyan—a record unequalled as far as I know."

Carrie (May) Davis' daughter, Martha, was married to William Mason Trafton, Jr., on June 21 in Providence, R. I.

Wesleyan friends learned with sorrow of the death of Eunice Whitehead of Macon after a long illness. The oldest and last surviving of the five children of William Harper Whitehead and Eunice (Thomson) Whitehead of the class of 1869, she lived all of her life in the old family home built by her grandfather, Dr. M. S. Thomson, physician and for many years director of a medical college in Macon.

Few families have been as closely associated with the college through all its history. In the very first Wesleyan catalog ever printed (1839) is the name of Azel R. Freeman, steward. His three daughters, Eunice, Mary A. E., and Catherine A., were among the very first students, in the classes of 1840, 1841, and 1845. (Catherine's diploma is in the Wesleyan Historical Collection, given during the centennial year by Eunice Whitehead.)

Mary became Mrs. M. S. Thomson, and her daughter, Mary Eunice, attended Wesleyan through the junior year. Catherine never married. Eunice married George Jewett, a trustee of Wesleyan, and died in 1844 leaving a daughter Delia, who graduated in 1858 and became Mrs. George R. Morton.

Eunice (Thomson) Whitehead's Wesleyan daughters were Eunice Whitehead, A.B. 1894, and Mary (Whitehead) Mathis, A.B. 1903. In 1925 her namesake, Eunice Thomson, graduated. In 1932 her granddaughter, Eleanor Whitehead, representing the fourth generation of the family to attend the old college, received her diploma.

Eunice Whitehead was an Adelphean, and a member of Mulberry Street Methodist Church where she was active in children's work and district superintendent of the Woman's Missionary Society before frail health forced her to give up the work. Surviving are a niece, Eleanor (Whitehead) Simms, a nephew, J. B. Whitehead, Jr., two great-nephews and a great-niece, Charles Simms III, John Berrien Whitehead III, and Jane Whitehead.

1895

Elberta (Peacock) Leonard keeps house for her youngest daughter, who works at the Capitol in Atlanta, commuting daily from Austell. Her two other daughters are married and living in Austell. She has one son living in Chicago, and one who travels for the Civil Aeronautics Administration, living temporarily in Ft. Myers, Fla. She has eight grandchildren, the oldest recently married and the youngest a little over a month old. Elberta has other interests besides house-keeping. She has helped in the library in Austell, and supplied as teacher in the high school. She edited an old diary found among her grandfather's papers, and it was published in book form.

1896

Leila (Gerdine) Burke has a new granddaughter, Rosemary, born August 21 in Peiping, China, where her son, James Burke, is special correspondent for newspapers and magazines. The James Burkes also have a young son.

1898

The Alumnae Office had the pleasure of hearing from a sister-in-law of Lillian (Crittenden) Sears, Mrs. C. J. White, who did not herself attend Wesleyan, but has always had a very tender feeling for the college through the many relatives and friends who have been students. Mrs. White's niece, Elizabeth Harman, is now a member of the senior class, and one of the outstanding students at Wesleyan. Mrs. White wants to receive the Wesleyan Alumnae Magazine, for she feels herself to be an "alumna-by-adoption."

Lucy (Evans) Stephens recently sent to the Alumnae Office a clipping about the daughter of her Wesleyan classmate and roommate, Susie (Stevens) Janes. The young woman, Rosalind Janes Williams, is a nationally known advertising copy writer, now associated with Tucker Wayne and Company, Atlanta advertising firm. In 1946, Rosalind won the Chen Yu National Award. She is the wife of an advertising artist, and the mother of two children Linda, twelve, and Billy, six. In the interview with the newspaper correspondent, Rosalind said that she could never have accomplished what she has in the business world if it had not been for the help of her mother.

Nina (Lively) Hendrix came to Wesleyan in July with her husband, who is a minister in the Primitive Baptist Church and was an instructor at the convention of this group held at Wesleyan.

1899

Susie Mae (Rumph) Hatcher of Macon

and her husband celebrated their Golden Wedding anniversary in October with an informal party at their home. They represent the third generation of their family to celebrate a 50th wedding anniversary and they had with them all of the friends who were attendants at the wedding, among them these Wesleyan alumnae: Clara (Rumph) Grice, '98; Martha Lou Hatcher, '84; Lila (Napier) Jelks, '96; and Susie (Simmons) Dykes, '97

1903

Sympathy is extended to Annie Lee (Lovejoy) Twitty of Hawkinsville in the death of her husband, Russell J. Twitty, prominent Hawkinsville citizen, and retired official of the Manhattan Life Insurance Company, in August. Annie Lee has one son, Russell, Jr., and one grandson.

1905

Woodie (Schley) Campbell has a new grandson, Richard Hadelin III.

Mary (Loehr) Arnold is very happy keeping house for her brother, who is a member of the faculty of Princeton University. They have the opportunity of speaking the several languages they know. Born in Shanghai, the grandchildren of Dr. Young J. Allen and Mary (Houston) Allen, A.B. 1858, they have lived in many different countries. Mary visited her Wesleyan roommate, Marilu (Beckham) Wing in Atlanta in August, and had a good time at a tea for Wesleyan friends which Marilu gave in her honor.

1907

During the recent storm that hit Mississippi, the home of Mattie (Chappell) Lawton was slightly damaged, and the family was for a time marooned behind fallen trees, cross ties, and other debris.

Willie (Erminger) Mallary's son, Nelson, Jr., is working with the Dan River Mill in Danville, Virginia. He is married and has two children. Willie and her husband are back in Macon now in their own home on Callaway Street after living for some time in Florida.

Elizabeth (Moseley) Coles writes to her classmate, Willie (Erminger) Mallary: "Please rejoice with me in the arrival of William Cruse Coles, Jr., on September 2. You know Billy had two daughters, Anne and Elizabeth, so the boy is most welcome. Billy has passed the examination of the Board of American Radiologists which is as high as one can go in X-ray and is now head of the X-ray Department at St. Joseph's Infirmary in Atlanta. He had to buy a home as no one would rent to a family of children, and is living at 10 Dartmouth Ave., Avondale Estates.

"Grace (Troutman) Wilson has a new grandson, Troutman Wilson, Jr."

1909

Annie Mae (Strickland) Lewis has been in New York visiting her sister, Ellyne, who is a lawyer with the Internal Revenue Department.

1910

During the summer Sara Lee (Evans) Lippincott went to Cape May, New Jersey, on a vacation, and in the hotel at lunch had the unexpected pleasure of running into her Wesleyan roommate, Tecoa (Hendry) Lewis, living now in Washington, D. C. where her husband is working. They had not seen each other since Wesleyan days, and had an exciting reunion with much reminiscing over old days together. Sara Lee's sister, Lucy (Evans) Stephens, '98, and her husband with with her, and enjoyed seeing Tecoa and her husband also.

1912

Lillian (Nutting) Branan of Sanford, Florida, has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. E. S. Jelstrup in Scarsdale, N. Y. Besides this daughter, she has two sons, both of whom served in the army air forces in the war. Arthur, Jr., was shot down over Rumania and was a prisoner for two months. He is studying pre-medicine at Emory. William is at Emory studying law. Lillian writes that she values her Wesleyan diploma more each day, and also the memories of such Wesleyan personalities as Dr. Ainsworth, Prof. Dingley Brown, Mrs. Shinholser, and Mrs. White.

Petrona (Humber) Hean of Harrisburg, Penn., was very busy in April as county chairman of the Service to China Drive, raising over $500 for China. In the spring she spent a month in Georgia with relatives, and visited her daughter, Elizabeth, at Wesleyan. She writes: "The campus and buildings are so lovely I feel the 'powers that be' knew what they were doing when they went out to Rivoli. We can grow out there."

1913

Martha (Riley) Holliday's son, Pete, has opened his office for the practice of dentistry in Macon.

1914

Alberta (Denton) Marshall, who graduated in piano at Wesleyan under Dingley Brown, is still active in musical circles in Atlanta. She recently composed the music to a poem, "Sonnet to My Father," written by Marel Brown.

Iola (Wise) Stetson, alumnae trustee of Wesleyan and head of the Alumnae

Building Committee met with her committee in Macon in October to discuss plans for the year. She and her husband went to Virginia in October to be guests of Col. and Mrs. Cooper Winn at Stratford.

1915

In a recent letter to her Wesleyan classmate, Ruth (Beeland) Jackson, Evelyn (Betts) Bell, wrote from Sweden where she was with her husband, Dr. E. A. Bell, on a mission to reorganize the Baptist churches of Europe:

"Edwin and I have just come from the Baptist World Congress in Copenhagen where about 1,000 Southerners were among the 5,000 delegates. How homesick we were! There were quite a few Georgians. The Americans seemed so happy and prosperous as compared with the folks on this side whom we have known for two and a half years now. Many of the European delegates had not been out of their own countries since before the war. Edwin arranged for about 50 displaced persons and some refugees to get out of Germany to attend the meetings. They could bring nothing out, so the Danes met them at the border with food and money and entertained them free. The Swedes do not have clothing rationed so each pastor wore out a new suit of clothes to give a 'D.P.' The Americans were generous and gave them money so that each returned looking like Santa Claus. All in all it was a very happy experience.

"We enjoyed a vacation at a Baptist Young People's summer camp located on a high cliff overlooking a bay in the Baltic Sea. This summer I got my first view of other countries in Europe, for I have stayed quite close at home in Paris, teaching in the American school and studying French. The people in Sweden are so friendly. Even though we did not understand their language, we managed to get by. There was plenty of food, which seemed wonderful after France. The Scandinavian countries show few scars of war and seem to be living normally again. The children are healthy. The government pays the fee for each child to attend a summer camp of the parents' choice.

"Theresa, our daughter, had only a month's vacation, so she started last January to get passage over to spend the time with us. She arrived June 26 and left July 20. I didn't know time could pass so quickly. She is on the last lap of her training at Johns Hopkins, and we hope that she can get work with the World Health Organization, or some such setup. We took her to Geneva where we went out to the old League of Nations building. Edwin was conducting a tour of Baptist leaders to visit our work here, so we tagged along. Then Theresa and I went to London. My nephew, John Gunter (who was ring bearer at our wedding) is Treasury representative of the American Embassy there and we had such a good time visiting him and his family. They have a car and took us to all the high spots of London as well as to Canterbury, Oxford, Stratford, Windsor, etc. We saw a splendid presentation of Twelfth Night at Stratford. We also attended the House of Commons one afternoon.

"Things are still unsettled in Europe. Edwin's work is scattered over ten countries. In fact, he is seldom in Paris, where he maintains an office. So it is difficult for us to have much home life. I also had to give up our apartment as the Embassy requisitioned our building, so the first job will be to find a place to live. Places with a bath and heat are very scarce and the prices are out of bounds. This year food prices have doubled and tripled in Paris and some things are unattainable. I order supplies from Francis Liggett in New York and from Wanamaker's and have been lucky to get everything except a case of soap and soap powder which was stolen in June at Le Havre. I suppose some black marketeer made a small fortune off of that.

"I appreciate the Alumnae magazine so much. I sometimes get out the old snap shots of my Wesleyan days and always have a real longing to see all of you again. Write to me when you can. The address is: 48 rue de Lille, Paris, VII, France."

1916

Sara (Cannon) Corley of North Augusta, S. C., writes in response to the president's request for information: "Our elder son, Col. A. H. Corley, Jr., served more than five years in the army during World War II, and spent most of that time in the European Theatre of Operations.

"Our second son, Capt. Grady C. Corley, served more than three years and was killed at Myitkyiana, Burma, on June 5, 1944. We are expecting the return of his body to the states within the next few months.

"Our daughter, Mrs. L. D. Hill of Waynesboro, takes an active part in civic and religious work there. Although my activities are limited on account of poor health, I have served as president of the Georgia Dental Auxiliary and several times as an officer in the Augusta Woman's Club, D.A.R., and Daughters of 1812. I am grateful for the privilege of attending Wesleyan."

1918

Allie Jeff (Doster) White and her husband, Major General Miller G. White, now in Frankfurt, Germany, announced the marriage of two daughters this summer, Dorothy Jean to Captain John A. Tate of Pulaski, Virginia, and Robin to Lieutenant Bobby Lee Marlow of the U. S. Army Air Forces.

Leonora (Frederick) Stanley's son, William K. Stanley, Jr., recently opened his office for the practice of law in Macon.

Polly (Pierce) Corn's son, Tom, was married on October 24 to Anne Turner Finch of Macon, teacher at Lanier High School for Girls in Macon. Tom is a senior at the University of North Carolina.

1919

Sympathy is extended to Mattie Beulah (McMath) White, Lois (McMath) Mathis, '20, Lena (McMath) Small, '35, and Ruth (McMath) McKenzie, as well as to their sister and their five brothers in the death of their mother, Mrs. R. L. McMath of Americus in October. Mrs. McMath has two granddaughters at Wesleyan this year, Lois Mathis, freshman at the liberal arts college, and Anne McMath, junior at the conservatory.

1920

Ruth Chapman is librarian of the Carnegie Library in Dublin, Ga., and says she finds her work fascinating.

Margaret (McKenney) Cavendish and her husband have recently completed a new home in Cocoanut Grove, Florida.

Arline (Taylor) Slack has a son, 18 months old in September.

1921

The class of 1921 will be grieved to learn of the death of Leone (Brannon) Mitchell of Dalton after a brief illness in July. She is survived by her husband, John C. Mitchell, attorney and former judge of the Superior Court of the Cherokee District.

The class of '21 will be grieved to learn of the death of Lillian (Chapman) Dykes on April 3, 1947. She was buried in the Macon Mausoleum.

1922

The Macon Telegraph carried an interesting feature article in June about the Rev. T. B. Stanford, superannuate minister of the South Georgia Methodist Conference, and the father of five Wesleyan alumnae daughters, Viola (Stanford) Strozier, '22; Ollie (Stanford) Gunnels, '24; Janet (Stanford) Jaudon, '25; Mary Stanford, '27; and Louise Stanford, '31. Mr. Stanford is still strong and well at 83, and serves as city missionary in the Macon district and preaches every third Sunday at Ebenezer Church near Union School. He is greatly beloved by hundreds of people whom he has helped throughout the years, and he still visits the sick in the local hospitals, especially out-of-town patients whose families are unable to be with them during their illness. He and Mrs. Stanford make their home with their daughters, Mary and Louise, both teachers in the Bibb County schools.

1923

Mildred (Baird) Hall's son, Hartley IV, is already widely known as a public speaker, having served during the past year as president of the Key Club International, a high school boys' organization. Kiwanis International sponsors the work of the Key Club, and last summer Hartley was the only teen-ager present at the Kiwanis International convention. He introduced Roe Fulkerson, editor of Kiwanis magazine, speaking before 10,000 persons on a stage where sat such notables as Gen. Omar Bradley and Harold E. Stassen. Hartley has spoken in practically every city in Georgia, and in Florida on several occasions. He has learned that it takes "about 45 minutes of preparation for every minute you actually speak," and that a really fine 20 minute talk is ruined if dragged out to 40 minutes. He was first ranking lieutenant colonel of the ROTC at Lanier High School, president of the History Club, military editor of the annual, member of Hi-Y, of Phi Omega Beta Social Club, and of the honor board. He entered Davidson College as a freshman in September.

Mildred Boulton is now Mrs. Wayland Rhoads, her husband a Lt. Col. in the army. She lives at 1235 S. Limestone, Lexington, Ky.

Margaret (Porter) Gordon of Tampa has a 3½ year old daughter, Margaret, who is a granddaughter of the late John Anthony Porter, for many years factory manager of the Bibb Manufacturing Company, and brother of Mr. James H. Porter, Wesleyan benefactor.

1925

Virginia (Dozier) Van Brakle's husband has a poem, "Experience" in the October, 1947 issue of The American Mercury.

Mathylde (Wilson) Clifton is acting director of the Bibb County Department of Public Welfare. She holds the Master's degree from Tulane.

1926

Mary Lou Barton again heads the women's sales army of the Community Chest campaign in Macon. She is a member of the board of directors of the American Red Cross, and is also chairman of the motor corps. She is regent of the Nathaniel Macon Chapter of the D.A.R.

1927

Elizabeth (Craven) Cobb and her daughter, Beth, visited Wesleyan in July. Elizabeth has a son, Noel Clyde, Jr., who will be ready for college next year. They live in Mountain Lakes, N. J., where Elizabeth is corresponding secretary of the College Club.

Frances (Horner) Middlebrooks writes: "I have a little sister at Wesleyan this year. She was born after I left Wesleyan and since our father died when she was only three, she and Mamma have lived with us a good bit of her life, and Mary Bird seems more like mine than my sister. I feel as if I have four children instead of three, counting her as my eldest."

Julia Adelaide (McClatchey) Cook's husband, Eugene Cook, Attorney General of Georgia, was highly complimented in an editorial in a Macon paper in July which said:

"Eugene Cook will this week defend another suit in the now famous Jekyll Island case at Brunswick. And he will win it.

"Eugene Cook is the first Attorney General of the state of Georgia who personally appears before the courts to make an oral argument for his commonwealth. There have been many able men in the long history of this state who have served in the important post of Attorney General, but they have always delegated the pleading to their assistants. Not so Eugene Cook. When there is a major case pending he does not leave it to subordinates, but goes to bat himself.

"Cook has won every major case since he has been Attorney General, a record that stands without parallel in the annals of the state's legal battles. And he will keep on winning them.

"He possesses intelligence of high order, plus courage and ability. He won the first suit instituted against the plan of Governor Thompson to take over Jekyll Island for the people—and he will win this latest suit."

Cora (Stanley) Mathis is food director of S and S Cafeterias in Macon, and lives on Lone Oak Drive.

1928

Marjorie (Jacob) Caudill of Regla,

Cuba, and her children, Margaret Jane and Herbert, Jr., visited her Wesleyan classmate, Katherine (Armstrong) Bivins in Macon in July, and also visited Marjorie's father in Americus, where he is president of Southwestern College. Her husband, who was recently made secretary of the Home Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention, joined her in August.

Mary Lou (Martin) Davis, whose husband is congressman from the fifth district of Georgia, writes from Arlington, Virginia: "I enjoyed so much the recent issue of the Alumnae magazine, and wished I could have been at Commencement when I saw the pictures of so many former friends.

"The 80th Congress has been full of many interesting things and work. I've enjoyed meeting and knowing the ladies from all over the United States. Mrs. John Bricker of Ohio was elected president of the 80th Club (wives of the 80th Congress). She asked me to be program chairman, and my committee were three Senate wives, all Republicans, and one Democrat, wife of a House member.

"When the D.A.R. met here this spring I had the pleasure of seeing Mary Lou Barton, who looks exactly as she did years ago. We had fun together. There is a fine Wesleyan Club in Washington. Fairfid (Monsalvatge) Caudle is the new president. I live very near Roberta (Cason) Cox in Arlington, and see Mary (Burdell) Arapian quite a bit. Her husband has a candy shop above the Mayflower."

1929

Bessie Will (Elrod) Unger represented Wesleyan as official delegate to the inauguration of Dr. Lowell Skinner Ensor as president of Western Maryland College on November 8. Bessie Will has two fine sons, tall, vigorous lads, aged eight and nine years.

Eleanor (McDonald) Elsas and her friend, Mrs. Ernest Felber of Atlanta, have recently opened a gallery to show fine paintings to admirers and collectors of art. A recent article in the Atlanta Journal Magazine Section said of it: "The amazing thing about our new gallery to artists, critics, and collectors is the extraordinarily high quality of the particular works on display. The gallery on Ellis Street is big-league by anyone's standards." Paintings by van Dyck, Sir Thomas Lawrence, Winslow Homer, Rubens, and other well-known artists are among the first to arrive at The Gallery. The first exhibition opened on April 27, to run for two months. The Gallery hopes to make people familiar with paintings as the splendid climax of a finely furnished house, while those who cannot buy can look freely at paintings, finding in them an enlarging and inspiring experience as they would in a symphony concert.

A Wesleyan class went to Atlanta in October to an exhibition of contemporary paintings at "The Gallery" on Ellis Street.

Martha (Orr) Hutcherson's husband, Paul M. Hutcherson, has joined her father's business firm, the S. L. Orr Jewelry Company, in Macon. The Hutchersons with their two children, Paula and Page, are making their home with the Orrs on Vineville Avenue at present.

Mildred (Stephens) Platt lives in Ridgewood, N. J., and her husband is a manufacturer of quilted satin boxes and closet accessories in Hackensack, N. J. They have two lovely children, Mary, 3, and Tommy, 2.

Marjorie (Taylor) Reid lives now in Surrey, England, where her husband is a chartered accountant. Their address is 10 Julien Rd., Coulsdon, Surrey. They have a daughter, Marion, age 12, and a son, Robin, 10.

1930

Dorothy (Redwine) Black has two sons, aged three years and one year.

1931

Bessie (Lester) Hart is one of the majors in the Women's Sales Army of the Macon Community Chest Campaign. She is past president of the Macon Junior League, of the Macon Writers' Club, and of the Council of Churchwomen.

Ming Hwa (Nyeu) Moy was one of the Chinese Wesleyanesses present for the meeting held in Shanghai while Wesleyan's Dr. Florence J. Sherriff was in the Orient, and she writes to Dr. Sherriff on September 26: "I had a wonderful time at the tea at McTyeire School, and enjoyed so much meeting you and talking over old times. I had hoped to come over to America this fall, but unfortunately my husband's work with UNRRA won't be finished until next spring. But I shall look forward to coming to visit you on the Wesleyan campus then. My niece, Bonita Shen, wants to come over for work at the Conservatory. Anything you can do to help her will be greatly appreciated."

Alma (Sheridan) Dill has a daughter, Eleanor Therese, born August 23. Alma's older children are Mary Alma and John Sheridan Dill.

Alice Moore (Warren) Smith worked for the Retail Credit Company in Atlanta for 15 years after leaving Wesleyan. She says that working was fun, but she only started living after Laura, her twenty-one-months old daughter, was born. Alice and her family live at 1058 Piedmont Ave. N.E., Atlanta.

1932

Martha (Barron) Stecher's daughter, Martha, is nine; her sons, Karl and Thomas, ten and one.

1933

The Macon Telegraph carried an interesting story with a picture of three Korean sisters who have done much for their country, as the Soong sisters have in China. They are the Koh sisters, and one of them, Gladys Koh, received a certificate in piano at Wesleyan in 1933. She is now chief of Women's Volunteer Special Service, Korean Red Cross. Her sister, Dr. Nan Koh, is a gynecologist, and Dr. Evelyn Koh is director of the Women's Bureau of the Department of Public Health and Welfare in Korea.

Carolyn (Lowe) Bridgett's husband has been transferred from Guatemala to Lima, Peru. They and their two little girls, Marian and Margaret, ages 3½ and 2 are living now in Peru; their address c/o U. S. Embassy.

Virginia (Townsend) Munford, national treasurer of the Alumnae Association, has moved to Jackson, Miss., where her husband is in business. She has had an anxious summer nursing her mother, who broke her arm, and a sister, who had an operation, but both are on the road to recovery now.

Queenie (Baker) Callan's husband is a radio announcer and news commentator for the U. S. Army, now stationed in Livorno, Italy. They have one daughter, Tani Lynn, born March 4, 1947, in Naples, Italy.

Frances (Cook) Sanders of Monroe writes of the classmates she saw at the reunion in May: "Most of the conversation was about our children of course. Pictures were passed around and questions asked. Everyone was impressed with the pictures of Ruth (Key) Butler's three charming daughters, and Marie (Cochran) Haynes' son. Sally (Jones) Pafford had a picture of her two children, Connie aged 8 and Martha 1. She said she had to wait until Connie was old enough to be her nurse before she could have her second one and Connie is already striking for higher pay.

"Miki (Kendrick) Mathews said that her red-headed four-year-old son is as full of life as ever. I saw him last summer and decided that his nick-name 'Hot-Shot' was pretty well chosen.

"Wray (Shepherd) Marsh has a six months old son. She said she was a little late getting started as the army had not been very cooperative.

"Elizabeth (Ramsey) Foster has two boys. I noticed that Dot (Beall) Maffeo and Hayes (Fowler) Lawton were busy talking to Dr. 'Sig' Lipscomb of the class of '35 who is a pediatrician in Atlanta and I can guess some of the things they were asking her."

Sympathy is extended to Lora (Solomon) McCord in the death of her father Maitland Solomon of Macon in October. Lora has a little daughter Lina Maitland McCord born a few days before her grandfather's death. Maitland Solomon was a son of the late Lillian (Roberts) Solomon A.B. '76 and a brother of Elizabeth (Solomon) Smith '11 the late Eleanor (Solomon) Clay '11 Frances (Solomon) Baskin '20 and Lillian (Solomon) Roberts '05.

Barbara (Wheeler) Hentz has a daughter seven years old and a son three.

1935

Jamie (Tyson) Dodd of Kew Gardens, N. Y., writes: "It has been fun to see Elizabeth (Walker) Preston and her nice boys. She is such a charming person and has such a nice husband. Ruth (Pike) Key lives nearby in Jackson Heights and we see each other often as she is my husband's cousin. My little boy, Grover, and Muriel (Smith) Farmer's little girl, Muriel, had lunch at McCreery's recently. They live in Jacksonville, Fla., now. This spring I played bridge in Forest Hills with Myrtis (Adair) Boyd, '13. Isn't the world small? I hear that Sue (Baillie) Helm has four girls The Alumnae Magazine is most demoralizing, for on the day it comes I simply devour it and leave the chores."

Virginia Evans is living now in Baltimore, Md., at Oak Grove Apartments, her family having moved there two years ago.

Mary (Jenkins) Winders has a daughter, Martha, four, and a son, Peter, seven.

Anne (Morton) Morton's daughters, Mary Lou and Diane, are six and three years old.

1937

Among those attending the convention of the Primitive Baptists at Wesleyan in July was Mildred (Brannen) Sanders of Metter. She received her degree in library science at the University of N. C., after leaving Wesleyan. She is the mother of an eighteen-months-old son.

Carlton (Ellis) Cunningham has a son, Walker Evans, born July 10 in Blackstone, Virginia.

Rose (Peagler) Porter's children are Peggy, 3½ in September, and Andy, ten months.

Wesleyan friends of Elizabeth (Studstill) Nelson, whose death recently brought sorrow to all, will be interested to know that she has a young cousin, Mary Gene Baldwin from West Palm Beach, in the freshman class at Wesleyan this fall.

Christine (Taylor) Hutchins has two sons, Bill and George, aged five and six years, and a daughter, Josephine, two.

1938

Cornelia (Anthony) Sned's daughter, Marcia, is three years old; her son, Bill Joe, 17 months.

Hazel (Birch) Harrison has a daughter, Dale Barrett, born September 15.

Betty Ann (Ferguson) Connally has a new home in Tucson, Arizona, where her husband is stationed with the air corps. They have a little daughter, Georganne, who was a year old in September.

Mildred (Scruggs) Andrews is the mother of a young son, Hal.

1939

Frances (Campbell) Hughes gave a concert in Atlanta in September under the sponsorship of the Friday Musicale Club. Frances is soloist at the Cathedral of St. Philip in Atlanta.

Carolyn (Malone) Carpenter's daughters are: Lucy, four; Josephine, two; and Rebecca, one.

1940

Ruth (Hall) Knox of Thomson has a daughter, Mary Virginia, born July 16. Ruth says she weighed 8 pounds 11 ounces at birth and has a head full of black hair. The Knoxes have a little boy two years old.

Elizabeth (Glass) Draughon's sons, Lee and John, are five years and five months old respectively.

Dorothy (Lamdin) Beckman has a daughter, Margaret, nine months old in September.

1941

Eugenia (Davis) Ash writes from Ft. Lauderdale, Fla.:

"We built our new home here last year and have enjoyed it so much. We have two little girls, Georgia, just a little over a year old, and Louise, born in July.

"Emily (Cottingham) Stuart and her husband are spending this summer in Knoxville, Tenn., and Emily is taking a few courses at the University of Tennessee.

"Betty (Dixon) Ehrick's husband is studying at the University of Michigan, and they live in Willow Run. Betty is studying music and teaching some music pupils.

"My sister, Louise, class of '43, and Maidie, class of '47, are having a wonderful time spending the month of July in New York City where my father is holding court."

Dorothy (Benbow) Burnside is living now in Atlanta, and looks forward to visiting Wesleyan often.

Sympathy is extended to Pat (Jarratt) Abkarian and to Dorothea Jarratt, '45, in the death of their father in August.

Helen (Lovein) Jackson's daughter, Helen, was 17 months old in September.

Frances (Jones) Duskin was made a member of the Junior League in Columbus this fall.

1942

Stevens (Dessau) Ashmore has a second son, William Dessau Ashmore, born July 22. The baby's grandmother is Frances (Stevens) Dessau, 1908, and his great-grandmother was Fannie (Gilmer) Dessau, A.B. 1878.

Marthelle (Morris) Harpe has two daughters, five and two years of age.

1943

Mary Edris Davis writes: "Lilly Lake and George Stephenson's wedding in Atlanta at Druid Hills Methodist Church was lovely. Nell Davis and 'Shorty' Wilcox were attendants, and wore lavender with bustle skirts. Paige (Adams) Jones, Margaret Sullivan and I were in the audience, so the class of '43 was well represented. Lilly and Steve live now at 1205 Arlington, Apt. 5, Davenport, Iowa. Mary Stewart (Becking) Smith and her family have moved into their new home on Signal Mountain. Katherine Dixon, '44, was visiting in Miami this summer and stopped to see Martha Crookshank, '44, in St. Augustine. I'm working as interviewer in our Employment Office, and looking forward to a vacation this fall. Winifred Colquitt, '45, has returned to Dalton to teach this year."

Dorothea (Harden) Keen has a daughter, Elizabeth Harden Keen, born July 24.

1944

Alda (Alexander) Harper has a daughter, Mary Elaine, born July 1 in Berea, Ohio.

Kathleen (Black) Janssen has a daughter, Lynn, 18 months old in September.

Dorothy (Daley) Kirschbaum writes: "About a year after graduation from Wesleyan, I ran into Pat (Jones) Schwartz in Pittsburgh, and we could hardly believe our eyes. Later, when I married, Pat and Chuck were at the reception and it seemed wonderful to have someone from Wesleyan there. About two weeks before I married Paul Long, who used to take part in some of the Conservatory plays at Wesleyan, breezed into town. He is news analyst on KDKA and can be heard at 11:00 p.m. every night but Sunday. Recently he married Claire Kinder, singer at KDKA.

"Last fall my husband accepted an assistant professorship at Ohio State University in Columbus. Shortly after we arrived I ran into Jan Stanton, '41, who had been serving in the armed forces and is now working toward a Ph.D. in psychology at Ohio State.

"On April 18, 1947, my daughter, Susan Elizabeth, was born. She is wonderful, of course, and now all I need is a few more psychology books. It goes without saying that I miss Wesleyan."

The Macon News carried a picture in the summer of Mae (Daley) Wayne and her guest of honor at an informal party, her classmate, Sara (Wright) Stowe of Belmont, N. C.

Irene (Pound) Peden has a son, born July 10.

Nanette (Snelling) Robinson's daughter, Nancy, was 17 months old in September.

1945

Carol (Biel) Courshon's daughter is 3½ years old now.

Wini (Bosch) Titterton writes: "Bill and I were married June 14, and traveled through all the New England states. Last February we went to visit Lois (Anderson) Blanc in Warren, Ohio, where she and Irvin have a lovely home. Lois is active in the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the church.

"I've seen Martha (Fine) Schustak often. Karen, her cute one-year-old, is really quite a young lady. Lois Goldman was in New York for a month and we had lunch together. Dot (Frazer) Pekkala and I have been exchanging letters. She says that army life is lots of fun.

"I am still working at the old eye-killing chore of proof-reading. I don't mind when it is in English, but sometimes I get it in Portuguese and African languages.

"You remember Virginia (Dozier) Van Brakle, '25? She has returned to Thomson, Georgia, to live, and can be reached at Winfield Road."

Joyce (Daniel) Mann's husband, Dr. David S. Mann, opened an office in Albany in September for the practice of general medicine.

Kathryn (Gibbs) Steinbruegge has a son, Robert Wallace, born October 8. The family lives now at Emory University, where Kathryn's husband is a student.

Elizabeth (Johnson) Carter's daughter, Betsy, was born July 7.

1946

Mae (Eason) Hall has a daughter, Diana Irene, born August 21. Mae and her family live now in Columbus. Her husband was graduated from Auburn in August, and is working as textile engineer for one of the mills.

Bernice Goode had a wonderful time in the summer at a dude ranch in northern Wyoming. She also visited Montana, Yellowstone Park, Salt Lake City, Colorado Springs, Denver, and St. Louis before returning to Florida.

Jane (Spearman) Struby's husband was promoted recently to assistant to the publisher of the Macon Telegraph.

Peggy (Worley) Studwell has a baby girl, Cheryl Mae, called "Cherie," born June 27. Joy Lawless and Becky Yates paid a visit to the baby when she was two weeks old, and Tracy Horton spent a week in Maine with Peggy and her family last summer.

1947

Doris Marsh, who was president of the senior class in 1947, and is now "Secretary" of the alumnae class of '47, announces the following groups of her classmates and their captains. It is the duty of the captain to keep in touch with the girls in her group, send in class notes for the Alumnae magazine about them, and notify them of class reunions:

Miriam (Angell) Macomber, Captain; Barbara Binns, Peggy Derby, Jane Epps, Bella Jarratt, Jean Lowe, Mary Alice McDougall, Maggie Parsons, Betty (Ray) Findlay, Edna Roach, Adeline Wood.

Beverly Daniel, Captain; Nina Bishop, Margie Gibbs, Betty Jane Henderson, Rena Shaefer, Sep Porcher, Betty Whitehead, Gloria Thornton, Mildred Scott, Mary White, Jean Wheat.

Betty Jane Wheeler, Captain; Jean Gerner, Betty Rosser, Margaret Smith, Betty Thompson, Virginia Wood.

Frances Oehmig, Captain; Gerry Farar, Letitia Eason, Eva Heath, Lib Lundy, Helen Mathews, P. A. Pangborn, Jean Parkins, Katherine Shepherd, Mary Jo Thompson.

Dot Hitchcock, Captain; Jean Anderson, Sally Bowen, Martha Hayes, Sara Smith, Becky Train, Betty Turner, Harriet Weatherly, Jane Wilson.

Nell Hardeman, Captain; Doris Dickerson, Emily Britton, Lillian Cazin, Annie Chu Lin, Mary Giglia, Nina Godwin, Pete

Gomez, Betty Morgan, Gladys Tarpley, Helen Thompson.

Nancy Davis, Captain; Rosaline Allison, Bonnie Bell, Annie Carlton, Betsy Chipman, Charlotte Sockwell, Mary Spencer.

Mae Hightower, Captain; Marijean Allsop, Frances Harris, Ann Hoyle, Harriet Loeb, Juliet Lynch, Jane Anne Mallet, Lamar McCaw, Pops Morrow, Pee Wee Patton, Margaret Woods.

Martha Worsham, Captain; Martha Bradford, Georgann Dessau, Marjorie Perry, Rosa Schofield, Julee (Struby) Burke, Lois Wheeler.

Mitzi Hyman, Secretary Conservatory Graduates; Caroline Ashley, Denise (Auld) Meadows, Eugenia (Corley) Simmons, Ruth Wong, Iris Fountain, Bettie Hall, Anne Halley, Eleanor Hawk, Winifred Hopkins, Lois McGeachy, Willene McGee, Lucretia McGibony, Jettie Palmer, Jo Patterson, Luetta Roan, Betty Shipp, Antoinette Smith, Merle Sosna, Rosemary Thomas, Gracie Thompson, Janice Walker.

Louise Pate, who studied at Columbia University this summer, gave us this list of other Wesleyan people, faculty members and students, who were also in New York this summer:

Miss Milda Cizauskas of the department of physical education, who has a year's leave of absence to study at Columbia;

Dr. Nancy Stewart, head of the modern language department, who studied in New York this summer;

Miss Isabel Gabelein, formerly of the Wesleyan faculty, now working on her doctorate at Columbia;

Miss Elizabeth Stinson of the department of religion, who was doing editorial work with the Methodist Publishing House on Fifth Avenue;

Mr. Carl Bennett, who was traveling in the north this summer, gathering data for a book on Booth Tarkington;

Miss Jane Tombaugh of the physical education department, who was studying fencing with the world champion in fencing, Santelle;

Sara Ivey, Conservatory 1931, who was passing through New York on her way to a teaching position in Canada;

Elaine Klein, 1949, studying at the Latin American Institute of Languages on 42nd Street;

Joy Lawless, Rebecca Yates and Jane Epps, all 1946, who are again teaching in Atlanta;

Janice Walker, 1947, who is teaching in upstate New York;

Shellie Lasseter, 1946, vacationing; Maidee and Louise Davie (1947 and 1943), in New York for five weeks with their father, Judge Hoyt Davis, who was on business, and Mrs. Davis and the Claude Joiners whom so many Wesleyans know at Vineville Baptist Church; Emily Norton, 1945, who lived just across the street from Louise Pate;

Marie Gould, 1937, studying radio at Rockefeller Center;

Grace Chu Lin, 1949, in New York with the Methodist Youth Group;

Roy Domingos, 1937, who spent last year studying at New York University;

Miss Lucile Nelson, formerly of the music faculty at Wesleyan, now hostess at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel;

Miss Iva Gibson, dean of women at Wesleyan;

Mary Pate, Wesleyan senior this year, who came with her family to take her sister, Louise, home after the summer.

Ex 1947

Mary Ainsworth is teaching first grade in one of the Atlanta public schools.

Alice (Cropper) Kelley's daughter, Angela Lynn, was born July 17.

Patsy (Stapp) Nadon writes this note with her Loyalty Fund gift in August: "Although I am in Munich, Germany, with my husband, Lt. Norman Nadon, a pilot in the Air Corps, I find my thoughts often drifting to Wesleyan and to the happy memories that I was able to store away in my mind during the two years that I was there. I am no end thankful that I was able to spend my first two years of college at Wesleyan, and if financial circumstances had permitted, I would have graduated this year in the class of '47.

"After leaving college I worked for nearly a year before marrying Lt. Nadon in April, '46. He was sent overseas in July, and I joined him here in December. We don't expect to return to the states for another year yet.

"Whenever we do get back home, one of my greatest pleasures will be to visit Wesleyan again. Wesleyan was where my husband and I met, so it holds many happy memories for both of us. Wesleyan is very dear to my heart—no girl could have had two happier years of college life."

Betty Thompson saw Pat Horn in New York this summer, and reports that she has a job and a lovely apartment at the Park Savoy Studios, 158 W. 58th Street, and is studying dancing with Vincenzo Celli, world-famous choreographer and teacher of dancing.

Ex 1948

Mildred (Keller) Ossowski's daughter, Linda Ann, was eight months old in September.